Governor Starts Probe Of Wages Of State Workers

To Secure Facts On Rate Of Wages Paid Employes In Other States

SEEKS TO SETTLE STATE CONTROVERSY

Liquor Store And State Highway Employes Wage Demands Cause Of Action

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 13.—Gov. George H. Earle today set out to get to the bottom of the controversy raging over wages of state employes.

The chief executive dispatched Harold Foulkrod, an investigator in the insurance department, to study wages of state employes in Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Michigan, for a report within a week.

This move was inspired by charges of liquor store employes, who are unionized, who contended they were receiving less pay than employes in other states which have liquor monopolies.

Include All Wages

The survey, however, will go further than that, the governor said, including wages of other ranks of employes.

The controversy was precipitated by the Pennsylvania State Employes Association, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which has already attempted negotiations with the highway department as well as the State Liquor Control Board.

The liquor store employes have been agitating for passage of the Harkins Bill designed to raise their salaries and grant them collective bargain privileges. The bill was "pickled"in a house committee.

Non-Strike Clause

The chief executive made his stand clear that any union of state employes must, if they are to be recognized, adopt a non-strike clause in their constitution, as is the case in the federal government.

"As to the question of hours", declared the governor, "they have been given a 40-hour week with overtime added to their vacations. That has been taken care of except in a few instances and I have issued written instructions for them to be taken care of at once.

"When they spoke about salary demands I asked them if they thought they should be accorded

PA NEWC OBSERVES

A lot of local gardeners who had been planning to get into their garden to plant last evening were disappointed by the rain. Ideal growing conditions are prevailing at the present time and things which have gotten up through the ground are booming right along, including the weeds.

Remember the Chukars, an unusual species of patridge, added to the Jordan state game farm collection last year? They are still out there and apparently thriving on captivity. Two were brought to this country by Frank Buck; the other two were given to the farm by a local man, Mike Stefano, if Pa Newc recalls correctly.

Pa Newc finds out today that New Castle had another winning contestant at the Welsh eisteddfod in Warren, O., last Saturday. Harold Miller, of Neshannock avenue, shared first honors in the adult recitation competition. He spoke on Abraham Lincoln and from all reports it must have been an outstanding piece of oratory. We in New Castle know something of Mr. Miller's talents but it must have been a surprise to some of his competitors in the contest at Warren.

London Recovering From Gay Revelry After Coronation

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 13.—After the gayest, most prolonged burst of revelry ancient London ever saw, the city went back to work today and scavengers took possession of the coronation route which King George and Queen Elizabeth travelled yesterday in medieval splendor.

And at the same time, empire statesmen and assembled diplomats from all quarters of the globe got down to the business of discussing world affairs and taking up the grim game of European politics where it was dropped while Britain's new king and queen were crowned.

Imperial Conference Tomorrow

The British Empire representatives, including Canada's Prime Minister MacKenzie king and other dominion premiers, began informal talks—the sort in which the real business is done—in preparation for the imperial conference opening tomorrow.

Court officials were plunged into preparations for the next great event of coronation week, the state banquet at Buckingham Palace tonight. The banquet will be largely

TWELVE WOMEN AND TWO MEN ON JURY

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, May 13.—Heavily guarded by state police and deputy sheriffs, 14 jurors who will decide the fate of District Attorney James A. Reilly of Fayette county today visited the little white-walled room where Frank C. Monaghan, 64, died allegedly while under a "third degree" questioning.

The 12 women and two men left in a bus under the watchful eyes of a small army of police. Following them were five automobiles bearing Presiding Judge McNaugher and the attorneys.

The jurors were under strict orders not to converse with anyone during their journey. Only sworn tipstaves, who look after their welfare during court recesses and after court is completed for the day, were permitted to ride in the bus with them.

Included in their itinerary was a visit to Ritz hotel, the lodging house

Statue Of Former British Monarch Blown To Pieces

Repercussion To British Coronation Seen In Event In Dublin

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, May 13.—London's coronation found a drastic repercussion in the Irish Free States capital today when a statue of a former British monarch was blown to pieces.

Authorities began an immediate investigation of the blast, caused by a land mine, which destroyed the statue of King George II, situated on St. Stephen's Green at 8:15 a. m.

The statue was completely wrecked and windows in the vicinity were shattered. When the mine detonated, workers en route to their jobs rushed for safety, fearing the noise might be the herald of a new burst of rioting.

A search by police brought to light a gun and ammunition dump nearby. Authorities said they believed Irish republican army members were responsible for the outrage in reprisal for the ban on their anti-coronation parade Tuesday night.

The statue portrayed the ancient British ruler in an equestrian pose.

LEGISLATURE MAY ADJOURN MAY 28

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 13.—Gov. George H. Earle's majority in the 132nd legislature reached an agreement early today to burn the midnight oil for the coming fortnight and adjourn sine die—if possible—by May 28.

Two five-day legislative weeks, Democratic leaders decided, would enable the general assembly, which today winds up its 19th weekly period, to complete the administration program and go home.

That was the procedure accepted by majority leaders of both house and senate at the conclusion of an exhaustive, four-hour conference in the executive chambers early this morning.

Wm. M. White Is Taken By Death

Widely Known Resident Dies This Morning After Month's Illness

IN BUSINESS HERE FOR MANY YEARS

Following an illness of about a month, William Morehead White, 83, one of New Castle's most respected citizens, died at 7:30 a. m. today in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

In the death of Mr. White, New Castle loses a citizen whose life was one of service to his church, his family, and his community. The passing years brought some of the infirmities of age but never impaired his mentality nor his spirit. Somehow he seemed to have the gift of eternal youth.

He was born November 17, 1853, in Pittsburgh, the son of Hugh Luther White and Margaret Morehead White. On September 10, 1885, he was married to Miss Minnie McBride, who preceded him in death February 17, 1931.

Near the turn of the century he came to New Castle with his cousin the late Robert A. McKinney, and together they started in the wholesale notion business on November 1, 1900, on North Mill street, under the name of White and McKinney. Later the business was incorporated as the New Castle Notion company, of which Mr. White was the president for a number of years. For the past twenty years he had been retired from active business.

In Mr. White's program of life there was always room for civic or religious duties. He believed in the institutions of his city and state and no worthy cause found him wanting in support. In his church activities he was an active member of the Central Presbyterian church, and in the work of Shenango Presbytery.

Hollywood Strikers To Seek To Extend Effect Of Strike To Other Cities

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 13.—Losing support within their own ranks, strikers today pushed a nationwide theatre boycott as the "last card" in their fight to gain recognition from the motion picture studios.

As the strike of the Federated Motion Picture crafts against the "Big Ten" studios entered its fourteenth day, it was announced that the Association of Motion Pictures Costumers had signed a separate four year contract with the producers.

The costumers were not on strike, although they were members of the federation. Eleven of the 18 federation members launched the walkout.

As picket lines about the studios here dwindled somewhat today, strike leaders retaliated sharply by pressing their campaign to boycott theatres in key cities in the east and middlewest.

Verdict Of $6,000 In Thayer Case

Jury Makes Award In Suit Over Work On Court House Plans

In a verdict handed down Wednesday afternoon, the ury trying the case of the Thayer Company against the County of Lawrence, awarded the plaintiff $6,000 fees for work done on the plans and specifications of the new court house which was proposed several years ago.

The case was tried before Judge George H. Rowley of Mercer county, and was one in which the Thayer Company claimed compensation for their work on plans and specifications of the new court house. Their original claim was for $24,000, but in this case they asked for the jury to decide what proportion of this they were entitled to, their claim being approximately 90 per cent.

The case started Wednesday, May 5, and ended just a week later.

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 13. — Lieut. Richard S. Andrews, U. S. N., an assistant mooring officer, testified today at the department of commerce inquiry into the cause of the Hindenburg disaster that bright sparks from the reversed port aft motor immediately preceded the explosion that swept the zeppelin to her doom with a loss of 35 lives.

Sparks Thrown Off

"The sparks were thrown off in an exhaust stream," Lieut. Andrews testified. "I first saw a yellow flame — it had a bluish tinge — and came from the aft port of the ship.

"Almost simultaneously I heard an explosion. It had the sound of a shell bursting, the sound of gun powder going off.

"The flame was of a shooting character. There was a hissing sound with the flame. I think it was that of the fabric burning.

"Then followed the big explosion."

SALAMANCA, Spain, May 13.—One thousand Basque soldiers were killed when insurgent forces captured the Bizcargi range on the Biscay front, an official rebel communique stated today.

The slaughter occurred, according to the statement, when the nationalists trapped a Loyalist battalion in the mountains, out-flanked it, and then annihilated it almost to a man.

The Loyalists were repulsed with severe losses when they launched an attack on Cilleruelo Bircia, on the Santander front, the communique stated, and 125 Loyalists were killed when they attacked on the southern Tagus sector near Toledo.

To Ask Dodds To Name Billionaire Seeking Dictator

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A resolution, asking the state department to request Ambassador William E. Dodd to name the American billionaire, whom he charged is ready to finance a Fascist dictator in this country, was prepared by Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, today for introduction in the senate.

The resolution would ask the state department to have Dodd, who is ambassador to Germany, cable the name here for transmission to the senate, to be used in determining whether an investigation is justified. Nye declared his proposed inquiry into all "alien subversive influences would most emphatically include this warning of a dictatorship."

Ohio Mayors Ask For Action By U.S.

Youngstown, Campbell And Struthers Mayors Seek To Halt Strike

THREATENED STRIKE TEMPORARILY HALTED

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 13.—John L. Mayo, sub-regional director for S. W. O. C. at Youngstown today said he was forced to invade the Youngstown Sheet and Tube plants with peace makers when small groups of workers threatened to walk-out. They have been pacified for the time being and the strike threat has been quashed, he said.

"Youngstown steel officials will be given two days' notice before we call a strike here," Mayo declared. "This would be for their protection, and to give them time to bank furnaces and other necessary work."

Requests that the United States Department of Labor intervene were made by Mayor Lionel Evans of Youngstown, Mayor John Borak of Campbell and Mayor T. A. Roberts of Struthers, where the sheet and tube plants are located.

Both Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Republic Steel of Cleveland, another large independent, with plants here, have flatly refused to sign a contract with S. W. O. C.

Meanwhile the Ohio C. I. O. steel workers looked to Pittsburgh for an answer to the strike question as S. W. O. C. leaders telegraphed the senate civil liberties committee charging the Youngstown plants were preparing for an expected strike by storing munitions, food, and tear gas.

Threat Writer Is Under Bail

Defranded Of $50 In Auto Deal, Wants Roosevelt To Make Adjustment

(International News Service)

WAYNESBORO, Pa., May 13.—Being defrauded of $50 in an automobile "deal" was reason enough for William S. Amberson, 59, Waynesboro, to complain to the President—he thought.

Secret service agents had a different idea. And today Amberson was under $2,500 bail accused of writing "threatening letters" to the President. U. S. Commissioner S. J. Zager, Waynesboro, ordered him held for trial May 18.

Agents said Amberson sent two letters to Mr. Roosevelt, one of them threatening his life unless his complaint was adjusted. The accused man, it was charged, previously had made unheeded "appeals" to Gov George H. Earle and other state executives.

Government In Renewed Effort To End Walkout

Murray And J. & L. Officials Called For Conference During Afternoon

FIRST OUTBREAK AT ALIQUIPPA

Operations At Jones And Laughlin Plants Are Halted Completely By Strike

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, May 13.—As the first serious violence occurred in the strike at the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation plants, the federal government made renewed efforts to end the walkout.

James Francis Dewey, federal conciliator, arranged another conference between Philip Murray, chairman of the steel workers organizing committee, and H. E. Lewis, chairman of the board of J. & L., for 2 p. m., E. D. T., this afternoon.

The SWOC demands a signed contract. This J. & L. is willing to grant if also permitted to grand similar contracts to other groups. The SWOC opposes the latter provisions.

Tear gas was hurled by police today in a brief but hectic battle with a crowd of 500 pickets at the gates of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation plant in Aliquippa.

It was the first extensive violence in the SWOC strike which paralzed the company's plants in Aliquippa and on the southside of Pittsburgh, temporarily throwing 30,000 employes out of work and bringing a crowd of 20,000 men, women and children out to the picket lines.

Counter Charges

SWOC officials in Pittsburgh at once charged the attack was unprovoked, hurled threats of retaliation and announced an appeal will be made to Gov. George H. Earle.

Police Chief Wilbur L. Ambrose at Aliquippa declared the pickets, shouting and snake-dancing in the streets, refused to permit him, Burgess Morgan Sohn and a patrolman to remain at the scene.

"We were shoved about and threatened," he said, "and then I called five or six other patrolmen and we fired some gas."

Call Meeting Saturday

Pittsburgh, steel capital of the world, became as tense as a war zone as Philip Murray, chairman of John L. Lewis's steel workers organizing committee, called an executive committee meeting here Saturday to plan strategy for a vigorous campaign on the leading independents who have refused to grant CIO contracts. At the same time the rank and file of the SWOC was ordered to hold itself in readiness for eventualities.

The Jones and Laughlin steel strike was the first major walkout in the district in years. No attempts were made to reopen the plants pending further negotiations scheduled for today.

Two men were injured in the brief skirmish at Aliquippa, according to first reports. A picket suffered a scorched heel from the tear gas and Frank Lasic, 60, a SWOC union member, was cut on the head.

Star Witness Sticks To Story Of Slaying Of Townsend Organizer

WOMAN ACCUSED OF FATAL SHOOTING

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 13.—The testimony of its star witness already on the record, the commonwealth today was bringing to a close its case against Mrs. Elizabeth Sample charged with the "champagne party" killing of John Hogan, a Townsend organizer.

The state's star witness, Mrs. Lucille Irwin, who was with Hogan when Mrs. Sample suddenly returned and the gunfire that claimed his life broke out, refused to change her story despite a stiff cross-examination.

Mrs. Irwin stoutly denied that Hogan was shot while all three were scuffling for possession of the gun. At no time, she asserted, did she have her hands on Hogan or Mrs. Sample.

She and Hogan were on a divan, she testified, when Mrs. Sample, who kept house for him, suddenly entered.

Ordered Out

Mrs. Sample, she testified, ordered her out of the house and then commanded Hogan "to get that thing out." When Hogan went to the telephone to call police, Mrs. Sample jerked the instrument out of his grasp and tore it from the bell box, she testified.

"This, after all those nights I lay in your arms and you talked about marriage," she quoted Mrs. Sample as asserting.

Then, she related, Mrs. Sample left the room and two shots rang out. Hogan went to investigate and two more shots rang out, she continued. Hogan crumpled and fell to the floor.

Mrs. Irwin said she hid the gun only in order to prevent further shooting by Mrs. Sample.

land's enormous rearmament program, and the touchy European situation, may prove one of the most important imperial parleys since the World war. It is expected to discuss defense and security of every corner of the empire, foreign relations, economic questions and trade.

With Britain and Italy at odds in the Mediterranean, Egypt will be drawn into the conversations regarding greater defensive measures on the Nile, the Red sea and the Sudan.

At the same time, as they always do on occasions of this kind, the galaxy of world diplomats in London held behind-the-scenes informal talks which may have a great effect on the path Europe follows in the near future.

The Rome-Berlin axis, the Italo-British ill feeling signalized by the "press war" between the two nations, the Austrian problem, far eastern questions and others were all being dragged out and mulled over by the assembled diplomats.

And while the diplomats talked, British empire representatives looked to their defenses, from London to Singapore to Sydney and completely around the world.

"I certainly don't feel they should be treated any better than the workers in the Department of Health, with their important duties, or in the Department of Justice, which helps protect the citizens of the state, or in the Highways Departments, or anywhere else.

"They said the liquor store clerks in the other four states got better wages than Pennsylvania pays, so I'm going to find out about the whole problem."

LONDON RECOVERING FROM GAY REVELRY AFTER CORONATION

similar to the glittering and brilliant affair held in the palace Monday night.

Workers, meanwhile, labored to restore London to something like its normal appearance. And in this they faced no easy task.

They had to remove tons of sodden newspapers, cardboard cartons and other refuse which had been ground to pulp under thousands of milling feet during an all-night rain that failed to dampen the spirits of hodes of revelers.

But the crowds who watched the coronation procession and later celebrated the event with a night of cavorting in the streets transformed Staid Trafalgar Square, St. James' park and the stately Mall into what looked like vast garbage dumps.

Three Deaths Result

The coronation celebrants also counted a death of three as a result of the activities surrounding the coronation. One of the dead was killed in a dispute over sidewalk space. He was hit by a beer bottle.

The two others dropped dead from sheer excitement.

Ambulance officials reported more than 7,500 persons injured during the festivities—about 200 of them seriously. Ninety of these were taken to hospitals after being involved in traffic accidents or sustaining injuries in the terrific crush when the streets were lined 20 deep by procession spectators.

Following the day of intense strain and fatigue while the coronation rituals and processions were in progress, usually reserved Londoners, reinforced by 50,000 Americans and other visitors from every corner of the earth, let themselves go.

Town Goes Hilarious

The whole town "went hilarious," as one observer put it. Thousands crowded into night clubs. Hotels, restaurants, private clubs, London's famous "Bottle Parties," tiny cafes —everywhere that promised gaiety and relaxation—was jammed to the eaves.

Many young peeresses, some of them still wearing the dresses they wore for the coronation ceremony in Westminster Abbey joined the dining and dancing throngs, along with scores of dress-uniformed army and navy officers.

American entertainers, like Harry Richman and the De Marcos, packed the crowds into the spots where they were performing and the jollity was increased by the fact that every "highbrow" and "lowbrow" spot sold liquor far into the night.

At the height of the excitement, men and women, many of them complete strangers to each other, locked arms and cavorted about the streets like school children in what became almost a fanatical burst of enthusiasm for the royal family. Half an hour before midnight, while thousands waiting jubilantly in the rain cheered themselves hoarse, the king and queen made a fourth and final appearance on the Buckingham Palace balcony.

When they left, it was announced they had retired for the night.

But whether they could sleep with the cheers ringing in their ears was a question.

GOVERNMENT IN RENEWED EFFORT TO END WALKOUT

women surrounded the strike-closed plants of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. today, effectively preventing resumption of operations.

The strike was called by John L. Lewis' steel workers organizing committee when the large independent steel corporation failed to sign a union contract.

In snake dance formation the workers paraded up and down the streets around the plants in Pittsburgh and Aliquippa shouting:

"No contract—no work."

Sporadic violence broke out when a few workers attempted to enter the plants. Casualties were minor, however, consisting mainly of bloody noses. Traffic in the vicinity of the plants was jammed as state police, highway patrolmen and city police attempted to maintain order. Two men were arrested.

To Keep Plants Down

The crowd was in a good humor, however, but determined to keep the plants closed until a settlement was reached with the union.

At Aliquippa all liquor licenses were temporarily suspended and the sale of liquor banned.

SWOC officials notified J. & L. maintenance men would be permitted to enter or remain at work in the plant to tend the furnaces and tap the heats.

"We have no wish to sabotage the plants," said Philip Murray, SWOC chairman. "We will give the company every possible assistance to care for furnaces and other necessary maintenance work."

When officials of J. & L. and the steel workers organizing committee of the CIO were unable to reach an agreement yesterday, the men, promptly at 11 p. m., the deadline set earlier by them, filed out of the plants.

Further negotiations were due today between Philip Murray, SWOC chairman, and H. E. Lewis, J. & L. board chairman, but, said Murray, "in the meantime the J. & L. mills will be shut down." A company spokesman said no preparations have been made to resume operations pending settlement.

Conferences Futile.

Murray and Lewis, along with James F. Dewey, federal labor department mediator, conferred constantly during the day in an attempt to avert a tieup in the huge plants. Following the conferences, the company said union leaders had rejected offers of a signed contract for SWOC members and a government-supervised election to determine collective bargaining rights.

Murray's only comment was: "We had a two-hour conference with Mr. Lewis and no agreemnt was arrived at."

Later, however, it was learned, the obstacle upon which the conferences had deadlocked was the company's request "that employes not belonging to that organization (the SWOC) shall have the right to an identical contract" as the CIO union.

Plan Sweeping Drive.

Pittsburgh, May 13.—All officers and members of the SWOC today were ordered by their chairman, Philip Murray, to "hold themselves in readiness' 'for a sweeping drive on all independent steel companies who have failed to grant CIO contracts.

Murray convened the executive committee for a meeting here this this Saturday to adopt strategy to combat the resistance of the independents, who, he charged, are stocking their plants with munitions.

Murray's drastic orders came as the SWOC's first major strike threw almost 30,000 employes idle at the Aliquippa and Pittsburgh plants of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation.

Presaging an approaching assault on Bethlehem Steel company, largest of the independents with 75,000 employes, David Watkins, sub-regional director in Johnstown, revealed that SWOC members there adopted a resolution requesting Bethlehem to grant them a signed contract in 10 days.

Letter To Employes.

Cleveland, May 13.—The Republic Steel corporation's 55,000 employes were told today in a letter from the management that they have a vital interest in the current CIO demand for a signed contract because "it involves your right to work in peace and support your family in comfort."

Republic has refused the CIO demand that it enter into a written agreement, and the union has countered with a strike threat. The company outlined its position in the letter.

"Thousands of our employes," the letter said, "have protested against the signing of any agreement by the company with CIO.'

Says SWOC Strength To Be Seen.

Aliquippa, Pa., May 13.—The Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation strike will "show the weaknesses" of the steel workers organizing committee, it was asserted today by leaders of the independent union which sprang from the J. & L. employe representation plan.

"What line of action we take will be determined tonight at 7:30 when we meet in Aliquippa high school auditorium," said William Turner, chairman of the United Iron and Steel Workers Union at the J. & L. Aliquippa plant here.

"Naturally, no one wants to be known as a 'strike breaker' but that is not the reason we are not in the plants today. The main reason is that a minority of the workers are blocking the entrance and will not let anyone through."

Turner expressed belief J. & L. officials will not sign a contract with the SWOC.

SEASON ENDS FOR WIMODAUSIS CLUB

Wimodausis club women concluded a most successful season of activities with their luncheon and program meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, with Mrs. Maurice Boyd and Mrs. Harry Pearce co-hostesses in charge.

Spring flowers were used effectively in the decorating of the banquet tables in the west dining room, where the tempting luncheon menu was served at 1 o'clock. Places were laid for a hundred or more guests. Afterwards, the group was entertained with a program under the direction of Mrs. Belva Bridenbaugh and Miss Iva Mayberry.

Dr. W. A. Womer was introduced as the first speaker to appear before the group, in the east lodge room. He gave an especially interesting and instructive talk on "Proposed Social Legislation".

Others who participated included King Bell, who pleased with a vocal solo, "Little Boy Blue", and preceding this number, dainty Mary Alice Falls contributed a song, "Little Old Lady". An accordion selection was given by Emery Swogger and a piano trio proved quite a novelty. In this presentation Bob Johnson, Bob Henderson and Joe Vogan took part, and following, an original dialogue was given by Audrey Bridenbaugh and Gladys Brown.

Throughout the afternoon at intervals the Girls Robed Chorus, all in uniform attire, presented an impressive sight, when they joined in singing "I Love a Little Cottage", "Will You Remember" and several other selections. In this group were Doris Bennett, Ruth Collins, Joan Preston, Ruth Porter, Freda Gillespie, Lucy Rupert, Edna Young, Miriam Thomas, Ruth Fehl, Eleanor Taylor, Eleanor Eckles, Doris Hietsch and Elaine Bollard.

A business meeting of Wimodausis followed, bringing activities to a close for the club members until September when regular sessions will be resumed. However, plans were completed at this time for their annual picnic outing at Cascade park on June 9, with Mrs. Ann Harris general chairman in charge of arrangements.

Juanita Club

Mrs. Wilbur Sloan of Englewood avenue will be hostess on Friday, May 24, to the Juanita club.

Afterwards the two joined in an informal social period, with bingo being in play. Mrs. J. D. Thompson and Mrs. J. L. Cole captured the prizes, and for 500 M. R. Olmstead and Mrs. I. C. Bowman were the winners. The committee in charge included Mrs. Kenneth Walter, chairman, with Mrs. A. G. Matthews, Mrs. W. E. Horner and Mrs. A. S. Eberhart aides.

It was announced that delegates for the convention to take place on May 14 and 15 at Baltimore will be Ed. Scanlon and Mrs. A. E. Snodgrass.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, June 9, at the same place.

A dessert-bridge interested a group of New Castle Field club women members on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. J. H. Gibson, hostess.

LOVELY PARTY FOR MRS. CHAS. WETMORE

Among the many parties honoring Mrs. Charles Wetmore, who is leaving soon to make her future home at Uniontown, Pa., was an evening bridge at the home of Lila V. Henshaw, Lincoln avenue, Wednesday with Mrs. Clarence Jarrett as associate hostess.

Three tables of cards were in play with lovely awards for top scores to Mrs. Harold Leach, Mrs. A. W. Schuler and Mrs. Wilbert Chapman.

Mrs. Wetmore was the recipient of a lovely gift from the hostesses, to be used when she journeys back to New Castle, which it is hoped she will do very often.

A delicious lunch was served at a large table with a miniature moss garden as a centerpiece, in which violets, lilies of the valley and small ferns were growing. Two small tables were also used, each one centered with a vase of sweet peas in pastel hues, and small watering pots in pastel colors, filled with nuts, carried out the garden party idea and were given as favors.

MRS. BRENNER RETURNS FROM BIG CONVENTION

Mrs. H. R. Brenner, president Lawrence County Council, Parent-Teacher Association, is home from Richmond, Va., where she attended the national convention in session there the past week.

She brings back with her many new ideas and suggestions from which the local groups will doubtless profit, for the conference was noted for its excellent program of speakers of national renown.

Mrs. Brenner was particularly interested in the conferences on character education, being especially proud to represent one of the cities, of which there are not so many, where character education is stressed in junior high schools. Dr. Joseph M. Artman, of Washington, D. C., was one of the speakers and another was Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor Richmond Times-Leader.

His subject was "Cradles of America," in which he gave historical facts about early settlements in Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg, the latter being restored to its original Colonial setting several years ago by John D. Rockefeller.

Still another highlight of the convention was the banquet attended by some 1,500 people in Richmond Mosque, which is about t ice the size of Scottish Rite Cathedral.

A unique feature of this entertainment was orchestra playing of different state songs, with large delegations standing for each state. "Yankee Doodle" received a big reception from Pennsylvanians.

As Mrs. Brenner is also a prominent Garden club member in Lawrence county, she was delighted to see quantities of red bud trees in full bloom in the south, and the lovely hills covered with blue bells in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. She reports the weather ideal.

Next national convention of Parent-Teacher Association will be held in 1938 in Salt Lake City.

MRS. MECHEM TALKS TO EAST SIDE CLUB

Many helpful suggestions for the annual floor show of the East Side Garden club which will probably be held in August in Epworth church, were gleaned from an informative talk given by Mrs. W. C. Meechem at the May meeting on Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. W. R. McKnight, on Adams street.

Mrs. Mechem's subject was "The Study of Flower Show Judging Points," and she spoke authoritatively. She is a member of the Lawrence County Garden club, which has sponsored several successful garden shows in New Castle.

The second part of the program was also very interesting as it consisted of talks by Mrs. C. R. Brenner, Mrs. Harry Sturdevant and Mrs. Paul Allen, all of whom have just returned from Richmond, Va., where they attended the P. T. A. convention, and incidentally participated in garden pilgrimages arranged for the pleasure of the visitors.

Mrs. Brenner and Mrs. Sturdevant told about "Three Oaks" and "Western View," two very beautiful and noted gardens in Richmond, while Mrs. Allen described one of the famous old homes there which the group was privileged to visit.

An exchange of perennials took place among the 22 guests present, including several visitors besides Mrs. Mechem, Mrs. Blanche Hanna, of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. J. A. Edgar and daughter, Mary Lou.

Previous to the program, there was the customary buffet luncheon served from a large table centered with gorgeous roses. An abundance of spring flowers adorned the rooms, lilacs, tulips, narcissi and bleeding hearts. Aides at serving were the hostess' two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence McKnight, who poured, and Mrs. Earl McKnight.

After luncheon, the guests viewed their hostess' colorful garden and kodak pictures were taken by Mrs. Kathryn McEntire.

June meeting of the East Side club is dated for the 9th, at the home of Mrs. Earl McKnight, on Adams street. At this time, there will be an exchange of annuals to further inspire the members to cultivate beautiful gardens this coming summer.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER FOR WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Eighty-nine covers were laid for members of the local Women's Union Label league and guests from Youngstown at the 14th anniversary dinner held Tuesday evening in the lodge rooms in the Wallace block.

Four long tables were decorated brightly with fragrant purple lilacs, to carry out the colors of the lodge, and these blended nicely with tapers in a similar shade tied with purple ribbon. The speakers' table was centered with a huge birthday cake which held 14 glowing candles.

Special guests were Mrs. Emma Augustine, second international vice president, also president of the Youngstown local, and Mrs. Elizabeth Dray, treasurer and team captain of the Youngstown group. Speaking of international vice presidents, New Castle is honored in having one of its members, Mrs. Eleanor Skundor, one of these officers, that of fourth international vice president.

After-dinner hours were featured by an initiation of ten candidates and drill work put on by the visitors. The balance of the evening was social and delightfully informal.

The committee responsible for the affair's success was composed of Mrs. Mary Patterson, president, who served as general chairman; Mesdames Eleanor Skundor, Mae Nicholson, Margaret Hartman, Elizabeth Miller, Mae Tucker, Myra Parks, Lena Nolte, Martha Miller, Grace Ferrell and Miss Josephine Kirk.

Miss Witherspoon will leave New Castle the latter part of the week, for her home in Scottdale, where she will be married in June to Ira John Dunlap, of Pittsburgh. THE CORONATION

AMERICA views with sympathetic interest from a distance of three thousand miles events in London, where a sister democracy, which has retained the symbol of royalty, has just gone about the thrilling and romantic business of crowning a new King and Queen.

Even in an age when kings have ceased to be important as arbiters of the destinies of peoples, the ascent of a new monarch to his throne is an event to stir the imagination of the multitudes, touching as it does something in human nature that has not been altered by the progress of democracy and the corresponding decline of the royal star.

Perhaps it is the romantic tradition, the magic that still clings to the names of great men who wore the purple, the universal love of pageantry and pomp and the popular belief that still persists, in spite of great disillusionment, that kings and queens and princes are built of uncommon clay.

Regardless of the contributing causes, however, the undeniable fact remains that England is in high fettle because George VI and his Queen have just received their crowns. And the outside world far and wide, even, we suspect, proletarian Russia, shares in varying degrees its enthusiasm on a happy and important occasion.

Of King George it may be said that he displays the personal qualities that contributed so much to the popularity and the respect enjoyed by his father among the masses. He should give the English people and, what is most important, the so-called ruling classes, no cause for anxiety or for grief.

As the gilded coach was drawn toward Westminster Abbey, while the flags and the bunting fluttered in the breeze, the shrill blasts of trumpets pierced the air, the cymbals clashed and the crowds cheered, only the more thoughtful pondered the deeper meaning of it all.

What turns in the destinies of his people will the new King witness? Will he be required to witness the ordeal of war, as did his father only twenty years ago? Will the empire upon which the sun never sets and of whose power and might he stands as the symbol continue to endure or will it disintegrate under the ravages of time and events?

Regardless of what the future may hold, the British people may find infinite comfort in the assurance that their new King and his Queen will display steadiness and dignity and a deep sense of responsibility and that they will be conscious and respectful of the nation's will.

AN OLD INFANTS' CUSTOM

Accepting a scroll for fifty years of community service, Dr. Henry C. Young of Hagaman, New York, attributes his haleness partly to his midnight lunches, usually crackers and milk, which induce sleep. "We are all grown-up babies," he reminds. "Did you ever hear of a baby going to sleep on an empty stomach?"

Ambulatory fathers at 2 a. m. might answer that flippantly. Physicians might explain that food in the stomach draws blood away from the brain, minimizing its stimulation and encouraging relaxation. But the eating-sleeping sequence is well enough proved without this. However, Dr. Young raised an important question: To attain longevity, should those who go to sleep at 10 o'clock be awakened at midnight for lunch?

LEGISLATIVE JOBS

Observers who have been watching the operation of Nebraska's one-house legislature are interested to learn that the 43 members have voted unanimously against revision to the bicameral form of assembly.

The increased authority which the new system grants to members of the legislature apparently strikes them as a decided improvement over the former method. Undoubtedly the one-house legislature is faster and more efficient, yet the old objections to it still remain.

Recent polls in other states among members of bicameral bodies have revealed almost an equal unanimity against changing to the one-house form. They recognize the fact that a bicameral body moves more slowly, that very important legislative work is left in the hands of conference committees where differences between the two houses are settled and that the simpler form is more economical. But they also recognize the dangers of hasty legislation and the lack of consideration which is so apt to result from the unicameral system.

About the only thing which can be ascertained definitely in view of the opposing convictions is that legislators, no matter what their form of assembly, like their jobs.

By and large, we suppose the steadiest job until the world settles is making maps.

Some people are kind and tolerant and patient, and others haven't yet had enough trouble.

To avoid being criticised, say nothing and do nothing and don't let anybody know you are alive.

The more abundant life is finding tangible expression in the growing popularity of the three-deck sandwich.

Having been rescued from the forces of depression, it now appears that we must save ourselves from the evils of prosperity.

"How can a man who has been married for years deceive his wife?" asks a Nebraska preacher. That's what many others would like to know, too.

Mr. Hoover, of the G-Men, estimates that 4,300,000 felons are operating throughout the country, but at least it's encouraging to know that the fairly decent people are in the majority.

The Hollywood influence of an older era has invaded many Eastern ball parks, where individual custard pies are on sale for a dime. This subtracts nothing from the hilarity, and makes it soft for the umpire.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHILDISH NIGHTMARES

Ever so many children under five, and some children much younger, will cry out at night in terror. With some children this will occur every night, and usually at about the same hour.

Someone should go to the child, of course, to assure him of security. But he may not be awake, even though his eyes are as wide open as a rabbit's. In that event it is well to awaken him, a good way being to bathe his hands and cheeks with a cold cloth or sponge.

Provided the trouble continues for several nights, you should consult your doctor. He may discover some digestive disorder, some barriers in his breathing passages, or inflammation in an ear. In case he can find no physical causes, look into the degree of the child's serenity by day. Terrors by night may indicate too much nervous strain by day. Even a very happy child by day may have these disturbances by night. The child, like the adult, can wear out his nerves with apparent happiness and success.

Certainly it will be safe to work for a calmer day atmosphere for this child. See that he does not become over-weary or over-excited. You may be able to calm him with quiet talk or reading to him from non-fearful materials. Grandma's way of dropping her work occasionally and cuddling the fretful young child or singing lullabies to him was not so bad, perhaps. Let all the family keep their voices down and the radio off while this child is awake.

Look For Jealousy

It is well to look for jealousy, especially if there be a younger child in the family. Well, also, for dad and other members of the family to minister to this child, so that he does not depend entirely on his mother. It is not well for the mother to take the child into bed with her; no better way to prolong the problem. Very desirable, it is, to help this child to learn to wait upon himself, amuse himself, and have ample play with other children about his own age. Needless to say that he should be guarded against fears and all fear suggestions.

In any event, it may take several days, or even several weeks, to register improvement. With all such problems we must be willing to keep working patiently and hopefully.

All Of Us

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Day after day you seem to be doing the same old things . . . But you aren't.

You sweep the floors, wash the dishes, dust the furniture, wash and iron and cook and eat and read and yawn and bathe and sleep, and get up and start the day all over again . . . Or you shave, eat your breakfast and go to work. You sell things, add up figures, tend a machine, fill teeth, prescribe medicine, tend the sick, give advice, go to court, take dictation, type letters, write words on paper, give orders or take them, put in the day on the job and then go home again. . . . The routine is sometimes broken a little. You go out for an evening to a show, to play bridge, to talk with your friends. You go into the country for a week-end, and once a year a vacation comes around and you spend it pleasantly. Or it is broken by a love affair, by sickness, by grief or great joy. By the coming of a baby or the passing of a dear one.

But in general it seems that every day you are doing the same thing, that every day you are the same person you were the day before. You don't notice any great change in yourself, and perhaps you doubt that any such change is taking place. . . . Sometimes, too, it seems to you that you are not doing ANYTHING.

But you're mistaken. You ARE doing something. . . . A street is more than a row of houses, a city is more than a tangle of streets, a human being is much more than the little things he does each day. . . . So, little by little and day by day, you are Building Life. You are making Yourself. You are creating patience, experience, courage, faith, loyalty. You are putting together the ingredients of character that rises out of the routine that may seem so dull and spiritless, but is, in fact, so lively and significant and creative.

If anyone should ask you what you are doing, THAT is what you are doing!

And hide it in a musty room.

GOLD MINING A LA 1935

Another triumph may now be registered for Yankee ingenuity. Old time prospectors, desert rats and others of their ilk spent long days in the hot sun patiently "planning" for gold. But this method is too out of date for up-to-the-minute small-time miners of today, who are rigging attachments to their washing machine motors for "washing" prospective "pay dirt." The "washer" is a bellows-like apparatus which blows away dirt and gravel, leaving the heavy grains of gold. It costs but 20 cents a day to operate and "pans" many times the amount possible by hand.

An Ohio man had to go to the hospital to get his hand treated after he had spanked his boy who had marbles in his pocket. Bet he will make the kid take his pants off the next time he wallops him.

Mr. Piffle—Well, anyway he didn't think that people could have more ham by raising less pigs.

BEFORE AND AFTER MATRIMONY

When a man's single his money he'll jingle;
He carelessly squanders his rocks.
He may look funny, but he spends lots of money
On fancy white shirts and light socks.

When a man's married he's worried and harried;
He wants things that will not show dirt;
His wife calls him "Honey" then takes all his money
And buys him a mud-colored shirt.

When a fellow says he went to "a lot of pains and expense" to do a favor for your, chances are he's grumbling about the expense.

There is another great control that is needed these days—and that is talk control.

Mo—Why in the world do you let your wife go aroun' everywhere bragging that she made a man of you? You never hear my wife saying that.

Less—No. But I've often heard her say she tried her hardest to do so.

While it may be a good thing to examine the kids for physical defects before they are allowed to enter schools, it may also be a good thing to give them a look over for mental conditions. Many children are not equal to things they are put up against at school—and some of that kind get along pretty good later in life.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

An angry woman brandished a bunch of newly cleaned collars in the laundry proprietor's face.

"My husband says if you send his collars back again in this condition he'll come and make a row about it," she stormed.

The laundry proprietor looked a little scared. Then his attitude changed:

"He will, will he?" he said. "Let's see what size collar he takes. Thirteen, eh? All right—tell him to come on over and see if I'm afraid."

If this occurs, it is high time for you to reorganize your room. Arrange your chairs and sofas so that they will place your guests in a group that can enjoy an easy flow of conversation. Propaganda Amidst Coronation.
British Make Capital Of Event.
Outshines Inaugurations In Press.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

SOME ALARM has been felt in the United States that the British have made the coronation an occasion of subtile propaganda. Surely, the flow of wordage and pictures into the United States has been unprecedented. To some persons, it has been sickening.

Indeed, a man from Mars could imagine that the United States were part of the British Empire, and paying realty to King George VI.

Merely a few years ago, the Americans were saying that the days of kings had passed. But here they are paying virtual homage to a king—and a foreign king at that!

The inauguration of the American president last January received less than one-tenth of the space in the newspapers—perhaps one-twentieth. Can it be that Thomas Jefferson's fears of a century and a half ago are coming true?

Jefferson, as president, and previously, was fearful that a "king party" would rise in the United States and wipe out all the democracy—or such democracy as it had. He believed that British partisans among Americans would be behind it.

WHAT THAT MEANT

Now, that meant not so much a king, would be chosen to rule America, but that we might place ourselves under a party which would accept the British view of everything, and would worship at the British throne.

One should not make any mistake, the British are no crude empire builders, such as Mussolini and Hitler and the Japanese war party. They conquer because they seem to offer a "safer" democracy, or an alliance to preserve democracy or "to make the world safe for democracy".

It pleases the British Tories at the moment to say in solemn words that they are preserving the peace of the world and are acting as the guardians of the democracies against all reactionary and radical movements of the day. And it serves the Tories well that they can make a show of the coronation of a gentle young family man. It serves them well also to put on a show at the moment when British labor begins to stir in its own New Deal longings.

And it serves the British particularly well, at the moment, to line up the United States in a hands-across-the-sea gesture for the moral effect this will have on Italy and Germany, the two nations that threaten Britain's life-line. It certainly must seem, in Italy and Germany, as if the United States participated in the coronation even more than did the British dominions.

DEBATABLE

The prayers of the Archbishop of Canterbury came intoning across the sea, telling all to give praise to the throne. And in unctious voice, heard in the U. S., the dominions are informed how privileged they are to give homage to God, the throne and the British Empire under Britain's divine protection.

One wonders whether the masses of India and Egypt have any comment to make concerning this.

Or, for that matter, the masses of the United Kingdom itself.

The Irish Free State already has had her say.

A DEBT TO ENGLAND

The democracies of the world do owe a debt to England for instilling democracy and for the tradition of democracy.

But the British Tories surely cannot be relied on as the guardians of democracy. Yet there are groups in the United States that seem to lose all sense of proportion and direction when British propaganda, with all the trappings of a Hollywood movie, begins coming this way. Even the wife of the attorney general of the United States is presented at court and curtsies before the king.

It is notable that President Roosevelt has held aloof from all British overtures for alliances. The president went through the last World war.

And when it comes to democracy with a small "d", one imagines that the democratic peoples of the world, hard-pressed at the moment, would rather pin their hopes on a Rooseveltian idea impregnating the world, than a British Tory government jockeying for balance of European power.

CAUSES OF ACCIDENTS

Those who advocate Prohibition say, whenever they hear of a bad automobile accident, "The driver was drunk; he must have been drunk. Alcohol and gasoline don't mix." Now, while some accidents are caused by drunken drivers, it is a fact that compared with the tremendous number of automobile accidents, alcohol plays a very small part.

The obtaining of a Driver's license is made pretty easy in most States. Even in the state of Ohio, a Driver's license was not necessary until 1936. There are a great many drivers of automobiles who never should have a Driver's license; who never should be permitted to sit back of the steering wheel of an automobile.

Deaf persons cause a great many accidents. Within a quarter of a mile of my house the other evening a man aged seventy-five and his wife, aged seventy, were killed by driving in front of a street car. The street car hit their automobile broadside. The man was blind in one eye and stone deaf. His wife was likewise stone deaf and totally blind. Yet he had a Driver's license!

The evening was spent informally with games and chat, the door prize being awarded to Mrs. Axel Anderson. At a late hour, the mothers were ushered into the dining room where a delicious lunch was served, the table appointments being carried out in pink and white with a center piece of pink roses. At the close of the evening, each mother was presented with a vase containing a bouquet of roses, and Mrs. August Nord, the oldest mother, was given a white Gardenia.

Pilots Blamed For Crashes Of Two Big Liners

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13—The Bureau of air commerce today blamed the pilots for the two air crashes near Newhall, Cal. Dec. 27 and January 12 which brought death to 17 persons and injuries to eight.

The Dec. 27 disaster involved a United airlines transport plane piloted by Edwin W. Blom. All 12 persons aboard were killed. The January 12 mishap, involving a western air express ship, flown by Pilot William W. Lewis, resulted in five fatalities, including Martin Johnson, noted big game hunter, and injuries to eight persons, including Mrs. Martin Johnson.

The World At A Glance

Britain at its worst, one can understand the fear of students of history—and humanity—that this coronation pageant may dull American perception of actual conditions in the world.

It is significant that this year marks the 150th anniversary of the writing of the American constitution. It will be recalled that the Articles of Confederation no longer were holding the 13 states together, that Britain was waiting once more to pounce, and the days seemed black, indeed, for the new nation. It was then that 62 delegates shut themselves up in a hall in Philadelphia and tried to formulate a document as a basis for a strong independent nation. Merely 39 delegates stuck it out, in that all-summer battle, and here were times when it seemed as if an independent nation were impossible.

In the end, however, a document was completed—full of compromises, truly enough, and soon to have a bill of rights added (under Jefferson's persuasive power), yet, nevertheless, a document that could insure a definite separation from Great Britain.

Perhaps that ought to be brought out during coronation week.

The making of the constitution is an interesting subject. Another column may tell more.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

in succeeding evenings. In each case, the car was driven by a woman who could not see clearly and in each case the passenger car was hit by a truck and in each case the two women were badly injured. They had not been drinking; they just could not see, and judge distances.

I observed on the highway not long ago, in a stretch of one hundred fifty miles, two men driving motor cars, each of whom had but one arm. They had no left arm with which to signal and shortly afterwards, I heard of an accident—perhaps occasioned by one of these drivers; not likely, but perhaps—because of the driver having but one arm and unable to give the signal when he made the left-hand turn.

Color blindness is another cause of automobile accidents. Where the highways cross today, there is usually a "Stop" and "Go" signal, the signals illuminated at night in red and green, and many motorists, strange as it may seem, cannot distinguish between green and red.

The State of California has been trying for some time to eliminate these drivers, and the Division of Motor Vehicles, of that State has made a pretty intensive study of Drivers. It has been found that one out of twelve Drivers, who have had accidents, when tested, were color blind, although the usual average is said to be one out of one hundred. Collisions in which persons with defective vision in one eye were involved, occurred almost invariably on the side of the defective vision. In sixty per cent of the accidents investigated by the Division, ability to judge distance proved to be the factor and in all of these cases, the driver failed completely on the depth of vision test.

This latest defect in the mentality of Drivers is the cause of nearly everyone of the head-on collisions occuring. In other words, a driver has got to be possessed with the qualifications of a locomotive engineer and then some. A locomotive engineer must have two good eyes, and he must be absolutely able to distinguish color. He does not have to worry about anything while driving his locomotive except keep awake and obey signals. Occasionally, a careless train dispatcher fails to give the right order, but that is very seldom. Occasionally, a crew employed by the Maintenance of Way puts in a defective rail or a defective switch, or the track walker fails to detect the defect in the switch or rail, but that does not happen often. The automobilist who drives even faster than the locomotive on the highway, takes his own track at all times and if he is not alert; if he does not possess all of the five senses, with normal capacities, there is going to be an accident and alcohol is not needed at all.

I have ridden with drinking men and have observed that they drive more carefully when drinking than they would when cold sober. In most cases, such men prefer to have a sober companion who can drive, do the driving.

AROUND CITY HALL

Cascade Park, a city-owned plot, resplendent in natural beauty is one of the most ideal spots a recreationist could seek. With spring foliage already covering the acreage it will become more enhancing when flowers begin to bloom.

Cascade Park will open May 29, because of Memorial day falling on Sunday. All the concessions, including Rainbow terrace, will operate and it is anticipated that one of the largest crowds on opening days will be present when the various concessions swing into action.

According to city officials, B. J. Biondi will be awarded the dance concession. The repairs to the roof of Rainbow terrace are practically finished and considerable repair work has been done on the inside of the terrace. In addition Biondi has contributed several features which make the place more inviting.

Parks Director Joseph D. Alexander stated today that the city-WPA projects have been approved for a new kitchen, comfort station and playground. He is anxious to have the work done so that it will not interfere with operations. At present the work has been delayed by lack of men, according to word given Alexander.

The new playground and comfort station will be erected on the location formerly occupied by the concession "Laugh in the Dark". It was removed sometime ago. The new kitchen will be located in the grove. The kitchen at the park has always an enticement for groups which favor outdoor dinners.

The gorge will not operate this season. In fact, it may be removed soon. High water swept away about 200 feet of the gorge on which many thousands received thrills. However, Billy Glenn's bathing pool will be open for business as soon as the park season opens.

There will be no boating on Cascade Lake because the lake was not dredged and cleaned. The 10 foot channel is the only place now where a boat could navigate. Once outside the channel a boat would stick, according to reports. It is possible that the lake may be cleaned next year.

One bad feature is the condition of Cascade boulevard which courses from the South Side to the park. The boulevard is reported in bad condition. Very few automobilists use the route now reports state. Several years ago the road was conditioned but lack of attention has played havoc with it, reports state.

There was a road which led from Cascade Park to Cunningham park. However, this road likewise is said to be impassable. The roads throughout the park have been put in condition.

Chris Coulthard will manage the park under the jurisdiction of the Parks commission. Pat Kearns will be chief of police.

MAJOR ANTHONY SELIN

Do you know that Major Anthony Selin made a loan of $50,000 in gold to the United States which neither he nor any of his descendants ever asked to have repaid?

Major Selin was a Swiss soldier of fortune who came to this country with Lafayette. Seline was one of the officers with Washington during the memorable winter at Valley Forge. It was during those dark days that our young, struggling America needed funds. Major Seline gave the Government $50,000 as a loan, but in fact, it was a gift. Major Selin founded Selinsgrove in 1790. He married the sister of Governor Simon Snyder who spent the latter days of his life in what is now the only stone house in the borough. It is situated on the east side of Market street and has been marked by the Pennsylvania Historical commission.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Snell Leader Of Republicans

Stands Out As One Of Formidable Fighters Of Party Today

HAMILTON IS FROWNED UPON

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Representative Bertrand H. Snell of Potsdam, N. Y., who tried his lungs recently as a radio broadcaster in the G. O. P.'s behalf, is about the most formidable of the old-line Republicans available today for that kind of service.

Former President Hoover, of course, figures only in the list of former White House tenants.

Alfred M. Landon cannot claim even that distinction.

Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the G. O. P. national committee "went on the air" a week or two ahead of Snell and the Republican reaction was that one more performance of that sort would finish their party, if it isn't finished already. Hamilton distinctly is looked on askance by Republicans—on Capitol Hill, anyway. They grumble that they lost too utterly under his management to make him a good spokesman. They did not like what he said, either. Briefly, their confidential chat strongly indicates that they consider Hamilton a heavy liability; not an asset.

A HEAVY HITTER

Snell, however, has qualities that even his opponents admire in him.

He was one of Republicanism's wheel horses when Republicanism was dominant in the house of representatives. His opponents did not admire him so much then. They denounced him as insufferably overbearing. "Hard-boiled Bert" was the name he went by.

But "Bert", as minority leader in the lower congressional chamber, continues to be a good fighter.

It generally is agreed that, under our form of government, the majority party needs to have a telling opposition to it, to criticize and point to its errors, if any.

Well, "Bert" does this as effectively as the most fastidious could desire. He is as "hard-boiled" a critic as he was a defender.

INDIVIDUALS IN SENATE

In the upper house of congress Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, as Republican leader, is so "smacked down" that virtually there isn't any "opposition".

That is to say, there is no coordinated opposition.

Senators Borah, Norris, Nye, Capper, Johnson (of California), Steiwer and Vandenberg, as well as some of lesser rating, are Republicans, and opposed to majority policies, but they are individual opponents; not a group.

For that matter, there are Democratic senators who oppose most of the administration's plans, but naturally they are not under the opposition banner.

SMALL MINORITIES

Briefly, McNary has not solidified a following.

Snell has done so.

It is small. He has merely 89 that he can count on among 435 representatives, but, so far as they go, he can depend on them.

McNary has 16 nominally Republican senators out of 96. Of this 16, including himself, he can count on a skimpy 10.

A REACTIONARY

"Hard-boiled Bert" is reactionary all right. If you are a liberal, you may not indorse his philosophy. But he has leaderly attributes—is a first class last-ditch fighter.

McNary is weak-kneed as a last-ditcher. In fact, he verges on being liberal.

He isn't conservative enough to make the conservatives stand fast; not liberal enough to appeal to the liberals.

You know where Snell IS, anyway.

Hamilton seems to be purely a chance leader.

Snell isn't a presidential possibility, certainly, but he is quite an outstanding "old guard" Republican.

Slippery Rock To Entertain Alumni

Invitations Sent Out To Six Thousand Former Grads For Alumni Day

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 13.—Six thousand invitations to former grads of the college were sent out this week for the annual Alumni Day to be held on Saturday, May 22. An all day program of reunions, athletic events, banquets and dancing in both gymnasiums has been planned.

PURE BRED BULL

HARRISBURG—King Katie Vale, a pure-bred Holstein bull sold by Lauxmont Farms, Wrightsville, York county, to a Japanese buyer, is attracting thousands of visitors to the 10,000-acre farm of its owner in Japan. Japanese law does not permit the formal showing of imported animals at livestock shows.

Summer Services At Tabernacle To Commence May 30

First Speaker Will Be Rev. Milton S. Lindberg Of Los Angeles

REV. MILTON LINDBERG

A special series of prophetic messages by Rev. Milton S. Lindberg of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of the Holy Land, will mark the beginning of the second annual all-summer Bible conferences to be held in the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle in East New Castle beginning Sunday morning, May 30, at 11 o'clock and continuing through June 6.

Other speakers who will appear at the tabernacle this summer are Evangelist John Carrara, who has been heard in many metropolitan areas over the country; Rev. M. S. Charles of Los Angeles, Cal., who comes here from the great Winona Lake Bible conference; the Allem-Miller evangelistic party of Philadelphia, Rev. H. H. Wagner and Rev. Marmion Lowe, both Bible teachers in the John A. Davis Memorial Bible school, Binghamton, N. Y.; Evangelist Bob Ingersoll, a noted conference speaker of Saginaw, Mich., and last, Rev. and Mrs. Maxwell Harvey, noted musical messengers of the cross, who use 14 beautiful new instruments, including violin, piano accordion, vibraphone, marimba, bells, chimes, cornet and musical saws.

There will be three services on Sundays: 11 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. The week night services will begin at 7:30. Special camp-fire fellowship and testimony services will be conducted on Saturday evening after a brief service in the tabernacle.

EXAMINATIONS

HARRISBURG—The pre-professional examinations which heretofore have been given each August at the State Teachers colleges will this year be given at each county seat in the state, State Superintendent Lester K. Ade announced today. This change in place for holding the August series of pre-professional examination will mean a considerable saving to many candidates who will be within easy reach of their homes and thus avoid the necessity of traveling and other expenses. The exact dates for the August series have not been fixed.

N. Y. MAYOR VERSATILE
(International News Service)

NEW YORK—The mayor of a city like New York must be a versatile man.

The municipal administration recently published a book entitled "New York Advancing".

To give the book's sale a good send-off, Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia visited the book department of the citys largest department store and for a half-hour over a microphone put in plugs for the 480-page illustrated volume. And he sold 50 within 30 minutes, he boasted.

Still, if a good cause justifies an unfair short-cut, that seems to justify the third degree.

Post Office Art Lost By Economy

Decorations Scheduled For Lobby Of Post Office Have Been Cut Out

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—A policy of economy, descending upon the treasury department's plan to place some form of art work in federal buildings, has cut out art decorations scheduled for the New Castle post office, it was learned today.

The treasury's procurement division had made a study of the public lobby arrangement of the New Castle building, and had decided that art decoration, preferably mural paintings, could be located on the lobby walls. The theme of the murals was to have involved some historical feature of local interest.

For the present, at least, plans have been withdrawn, and appointment of art committees and an artist dropped.

Consolidation Of Schools Increases

GROVE CITY, May 13.—Public sale of the Browntown School, near Harrisville, advertised for the near future, indicates the trend toward consolidation of rural one-room schools. The movement is enlisting supporters in Pine Township, surrounding Grove City, where ten dilapidated one-room buildings serve pupils; each serves from 25 to 53 pupils of all grades. Many township residents are advocating a consolidation, and have indicated a desire to merge with Grove City borough, which is within three miles of the most distant school.

MRS. TEMPLETON IS HONORED BY CHAPTER

Cathedral Chapter, No. 440, Order of the Eastern Star, inaugurated an unusual feature at their first meeting of the month conducted in the Scottish Rite Cathedral on Tuesday evening. It was a beautiful ceremony celebrating Mothers' Day, the honoree being past matron, Mrs. Lillian Templeton.

The event was arranged by Mrs. Sadie McCreary, worthy matron of Cathedral Chapter, assisted by officers and the membership. Flowers were used throughout the ceremony, which were later placed in a garland symbolic of a complete circle. The most touching incident was a gift to Mrs. Templeton of two bouquets of violets and wild geraniums gathered and sent by David and Lynn Goodwin, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodwin.

The cluster of pansies from Mrs. McCreary's memory garden, and a telegram from Mrs. Catherine West, who could not be present, were given under escort of Mrs. Edith DeArment, and following, Mrs. Templeton was presented to the chapter.

Those taking part in the colorful ceremony composed officers of Mrs. Templeton's year of service, and included Mrs. Nellie Ray, Miss Mildred Updegraff, Mrs. Edith DeArment, Mrs. Olive Hewitt, Mrs. Emma Leslie, Mrs. Hazel Matheison, Mrs. Edith Green, Mrs. Margaret Pritchard and Mrs. Adda Keeling.

The gift from the chapter was presented by Mrs. Olive Hewitt in her usual impressive manner. After a lovely solo, "My Mother," contributed by Mrs. Kathryn John, a period of felicitation brought the memorable occasion to a close.

Mrs. Mae B. Young brought the constituting worthy grand matron, Mrs. Jane M. Roberts, most cordial good wishes to the chapter during the procedure.

Slash In W. P. A. Force On July 1 Hopkins Says

Tells Congressmen President's Program Forecasts Dropping 500,000

SEES PERMANENT UNEMPLOYED HOST

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The president's $1,500,000,000 relief program is based upon slashing about 500,000 workers from WPA in the year beginning July 1.

This figure was given to the house appropriations deficiency subcommittee by Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, hearings made public today revealed.

Hopkins expressed doubt that the $1,500,000,000 fund will last for a full year. He said:

"For the appropriation of $1,500,000,000 to meet the unemployment situation during the coming year, it will be necessary for private industry to absorb the difference between 2,255,000 persons and 1,730,000 persons, or a total of 525,000 now employed on the works progress administration program.

Testimony Highlights

"This means, of course, that private employment must increase by a much larger number than this since there are millions of unemployed not on the WPA and there are about 350,000 families with employable members on the local relief rolls who are not on the WPA."

Other highlights of Hopkins' testimony were:

1—He believes that there are 7,000,000 to 10,000,000 unemployed now and the country faces permanent unemployment of 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 persons.

2—WPA wages will have to be increased because of the increase in living costs. Wage scale now ranges from 21 a month to $104 a month, with the average $55 a month.

3—Employment is not increasing fast enough because of increase in available workers, because productivity of labor is increasing, because hours of labor are increasing and because some industries have not shared to the full extent in recovery.

4—No labor shortage is caused by WPA. Program must be adjusted, however, with heavy building cut out, because skilled workers are not on relief and because of rising material costs.

Explaining the probable WPA wage boost, Hopkins said:

"Another problem we have is the rising cost of living, which will make necessary some adjustment in our security wage scale. I am convinced that there will be an increase in retail prices."

Judge Braham's Car In Accident

Forced Off Road On Perry Highway—Judge Escapes Injuries

Judge W. Walter Braham escaped injury, but Edmund Day Whitman, 319 Phillips street, sustained lacerations at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday when the judge "ditched" his car on Route 19 in order to prevent what might have proven a serious accident.

According to the state highway patrol, Judge Braham, accompanied by Whitman, was driving his auto between Portersville and the Dixie Inn toward New Castle when, at the top of a hill, an auto travelling toward Portersville made an improper pass around two auto convoys.

The auto was headed straight for Judge Braham's auto. However, the judge had the presence of mind to run his car off the highway. It headed into an embankment. Mr. Whitman was thrown against the windshield. His head and hand were cut when the windshield broke, according to the highway patrol.

The identity of the other autoist is not known.

Butler Mistakes Burglar Alarm For Can Opener

(International News Service)

WEST HARTFORD, Conn., May 13.—Mrs. Helen C. Alvord's butler knows today that the queer looking thing on the kitchen cabinet is a burglar alarm connecting with police headquarters.

Yesterday, new to the job, he mistook the alarm for a bottle opener. He got his bottle open but he wasn't prepared for the two squads of police that arrived.

He was mortified.

Consolidation Bill Is Signed

HARRISBURG, May 13.—Gov. George H. Earle today signed the Ruth-Brownfield bill providing for the consolidation of teacherless school districts. The measure was one of the "key" items on the education department program.

ASKS BUILDING PERMIT

Morris Lerner, 921 Moravia street, through his attorney, Sherman K. Levine, today requested council for permission to construct a non-fireproof building at 921 Moravia street. According to the attorney, Lerner already has completed alterations of an original building which stood there for many years prior to the placing of Moravia street in the fire zone. He said that Lerner's action had decreased the fire hazard. The request was referred to the fire chief for report. According to Councilman J. M. Rice, a permit should have been taken out before the alterations made.

King George Speaks To World Audience

By NEWELL ROGERS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 13—"With a very full heart," King George on Wednesday broadcast a moving message from Buckingham palace to one of the greatest audiences ever to hear a speaker.

The monarch in slow, measured tones pointed out that "never before has a newly-crowned king been able to talk to all his peoples in their homes on the day of the coronation.

"And never has the ceremony itself had so wide a significance for the dominions are now free and equal partners with this ancient kingdom" he went on, "and I felt this morning that the whole empire was in very truth gathered within the walls of Westminster Abbey.

George weighed each word, but spoke in rhythmic phrases of about four words each, as taught him by the Australian instructor who cured him of his stammer.

"I rejoice that I can now speak to you all, wherever you may be, greeting old friends in distant lands, and as I hope, new friends in those parts where it has not been my good fortune to go."

"In this personal way," said the king, "The queen and I wish health and happiness to you all and we do not forget at this time of celebration those who are living under the shadow of sickness or distress. Their example of courage and good citizenship is always before us.

"And to them I would send a special message of sympathy and good cheer.

"I can not find words with which to thank you for your love and loyalty to the queen and myself. Your good will in the streets today and your countless messages from overseas and from every quarter of those islands have filled our hearts to overflowing.

"I will only say this: that if in the coming years I can show my gratitude to you, that is the way above all others that I should choose.

"To many millions the crown is a symbol of unity. By the grace of God and the will of the free peoples of the British commonwealth I have assumed that crown. In me as your king is vested for a time the duty of maintaining its honor and integrity.

"This is indeed a grave and constant responsibility. But it gave me confidence to see your representatives around me in the abbey and to know that you, too, were enabled to join in that infinitely beautiful ceremony.

"It's outward forms come down from distant times, but its inner meeting and message are always new. For the highest of distinctions is the service of others, and to the ministry of kingship I have in your sharing dedicated myself with the queen at my side in words of the deepest solemnity.

"We will, God helping us, faithfully discharge our trust!

"Those of you who are children now will, I hope, retain the memories of a day of carefree happiness such as I still have of the day of my grandfather's coronation.

"In the years to come, some of you will travel from one part of the commonwealth to another and moving thus within the family circle will meet many whose thoughts are colored by the same memories, whose hearts unite in devotion to our common heritage.

"You will learn, I hope, how much our free associations mean to us, how much our friendship with each other and with all the nations on earth can help the cause of peace and progress.

"The queen and I will always keep in our hearts the inspiration of this day. May we ever be worthy of the good will which I am proud to think surrounds us at the outset of my reign.

"I thank you from my heart—and may God bless you all!"

Re-Name Bechtol Board Secretary

Elected At Meeting Of School Board — Principal Orth Defers Signing Contract

John B. Bechtol was re-elected secretary and business manager of the New Castle School district Wednesday night when the board met for its monthly business meeting in the administration building on East street.

Mr. Bechtol had been serving out the unfinished term of Hugh M. Marquis who retired because of age a little over a year ago. The new term of Mr. Bechtol is for four years commencing July 1, 1937. The salary was set at $3300.

Some discussion arose when the salary was to be set, several of the board members desiring to set it at $3600. President Daniel B. Woolcock, J. H. McIlvenny, Dr. W. D. Cleland and Roy W. Hazen said that Bechtol's services had been unusually efficient and that he had saved the school system considerable money through his work. A. C. Hyde and Griff Thomas agreed that Mr. Bechtol's work was of a high quality but felt that the salary should be $3000. Clyde M. Whittaker suggested a compromise figure of $3300 which was passed.

The salary of Frank L. Orth, principal of the senior high school came up for discussion, Mr. Orth having deferred signing his contract until he knew what arrangements were to be made.

In the past two years the board has paid Mr. Orth the scheduled $4000 salary as principal and two months at a proportionate rate for work done in the summer preparing for the coming school terms. This has made his total remuneration $4,888.89.

The board was unanimous in the opinion that the contract should read what the Edmonds Act provides, $4,000 and that the payment for work in the summer should be in the nature of a supplemental contract or grant.

Sabbath Services At Temple Israel

Sabbath Dinner To Precede Regular Services On Friday Evening

Regular Sabbath services will be held at Temple Israel Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Biblical portion for the second Sabbath of the month of Sivan is taken from the forty-fourth chapter of Isaiah. Rabbi Norman H. Diamond will preach on a theme appropriate to the approaching holiday of Shebuoth. Preceding the services, there will be a Sabbath dinner at the Temple, arranged by the May committee of the Sisterhood, composed of Mrs. Wm. Cosel, Mrs. M. Blau, Mrs. M. Hirsh, Mrs. Ida Kohn and Mrs. M. Rizika. It is scheduled for 6:15 and will be marked by the reciting of the Kiddush, the blessing over the Sabbath candles by Mrs. J. Conn, chairman of the Sisterhood religious committee, singing of Sabbath songs.

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30, the religious school will officially close for the season. A Shebuoth program is being presented and awards are to be made for meritorious work and perfect attendance. Jean Edelstein will announce the program and A. H. Gonick, chairman of the Temple religious school committee, will present the prizes and certificates.

Washington Students To Give English Pageant On May 21

George Washington Junior-Senior high school will witness the colorful coronation of a queen on Friday evening, May 21—but the coronation comes in the impressive pageant, "An Old English May Day," which the students of Washington are rehearsing for public presentation that night.

The pageant will represent a consummation of the term's work in English in Shakespeare from grades seven through ten.

May Day is one of the traditional English festival., and students and teachers of the school are joining forces to present this spectacle in all its glory, including the Morris dancers, Robin Hood's men, the jester and hobby-horse, and the English country dances.

Reports from the North Hill school indicate it will be one of the school's most elaborate stage offerings.

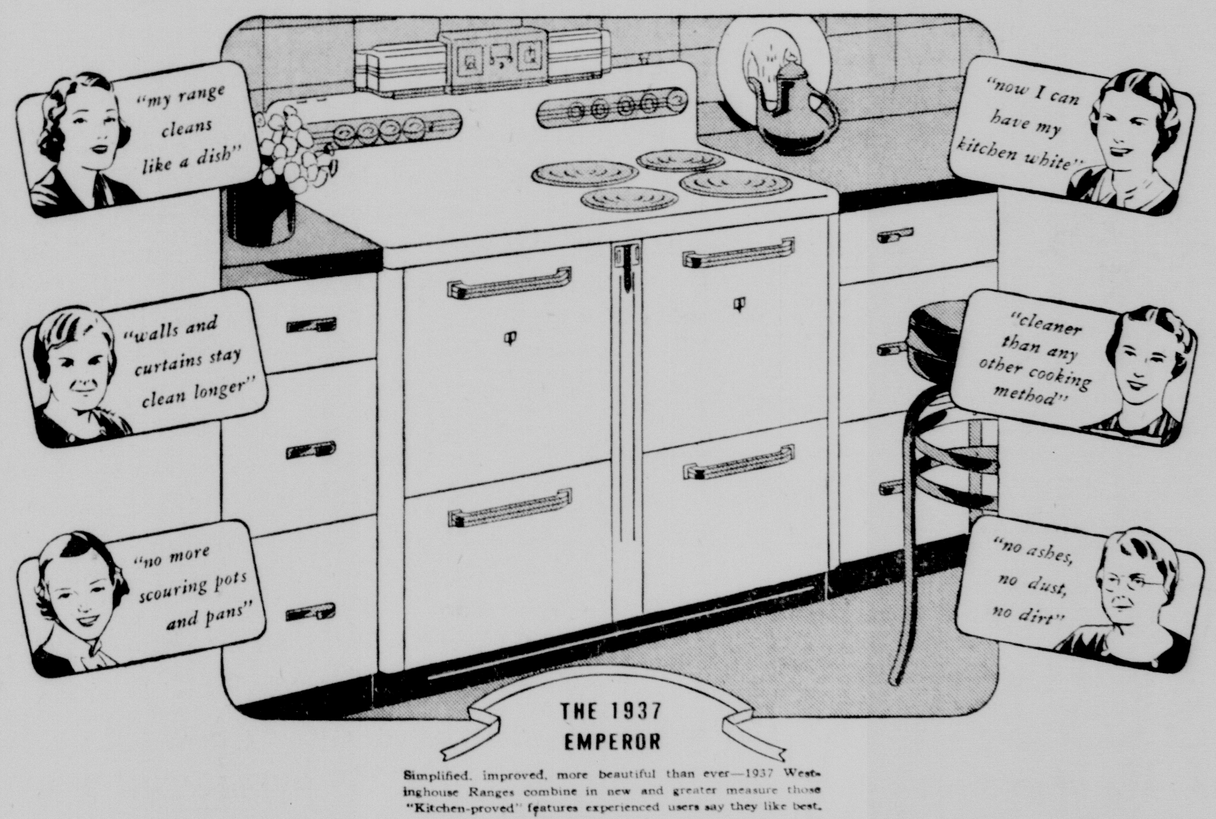

Students will play the part of villagers of Stratford and act their parts in scenes from "The Tempest," "As You Like It," "The Merchant of Venice," "Mid-Summer Night's Dream" and "Julius Caesar." Will Shakespeare, desirious of having them do their best, exhorts them to high efforts by his famous speech which started, "Speak the speech, I pray you, as I pronounced it to you trippingly on the tongue."

The participating cast will be announced later, faculty supervisors of the pageant said.

Senior Class Play Scheduled May 20

Will Mark Start Of Commencement Activities For June Class Of 1937

Commencement events at the big school on Lincoln avenue will reach one of their high spots Thursday evening, May 20, when the graduates class play will be presented to the public.

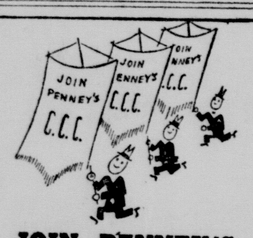

For its dramatic performance the class has chosen Aurania Rouveral's three-act comedy, "Skidding," originally produced at the Bijou Theater, New York City. This is a domestic comedy of the best sort. New Castle movie-goers will remember the motion picture, "A Family Affair," which was shown at one of the local theaters a short time ago. It was the screen version of "Skidding."

Under the able direction of Miss Clara Hartsuff, Senior high school's dramatic coach, a fine cast is prepared to go before the footlights with an exceptionally good play.

The cast that has been selected will include the following players: Elizabeth Slaver as Marion Hardy, James Cavell as Andy Hardy, Mary McLaughlin as Mrs. Hardy, Gilbert Colnot as Judge Hardy, Betty Woodring as Aunt Milly, Jack Ligo as Mr. Stubbins, Estelle Cukerbaum as Estelle Hardy Campbell, Mary Conrad as Myra Hardy Wilcox, George Large as Grandpa Hardy, and Dennis Allshouse as Wayne Trenton.

Manager Monroe Kiwanis Speaker

Ellwood City Chief Tells Of Operations Under 'Manager Plan'

Borough Manager Lowell W. Monroe of Ellwood City told New Castle Kiwanians on Wednesday of the city manager form of municipal administration under which some 400 cities and towns in the United States are now operating.

Mr. Monroe, speaking at The Castleton before the club audience which included Mayor Chas. E. McGrath, a Kiwanian, and Councilman J. Leon Fink, a guest, related his own Ellwood experiences and traced the growth of the managerial type of city operation since 1908.

Manager Business Head.

Declaring that city administration is "90 per cent service and five p cent government," Manager Monroe stressed that in council manager-operated towns and cities the council serves as the legislative unit and the manager himself serves solely as an administrative officer. Records show, he continued, that most managers so far have been chosen from the fields of maintenance, construction or finance since major municipal problems fall mostly in one of those three classifications. He said a number of the managers have finished college courses.

"But it's a human institution," he added, "and where the human element is involved there will be failures. There have been some, but the reason was usually apparent."

He said the manager form of govments have failed either because of loosely drawn local ordinances, loss of political patronage, lack of sustained interest on the part of the citizenry of that community or because the wrong man was chosen as manager.

Must Shun All Politics.

"He's an administrative officer," Mr. Monroe emphasized. "Above all he must keep out of politics."

The average tenure of service for city managers is seven years and two months in Pennsylvania, and their salaries have ranged, throughout the country as a whole, from $2,000 to $25,000.

The speaker told the club that Chicago is giving serious study to some similar form of administrative government as the city manager type and that Governor Earle only recently appointed a commission to study ways and means for improving Philadelphia's city government.

The courses that large colleges are offering for the training of city managers were spoken of during the address.

Mr. Monroe was introduced by the Rev. Harold A. McCurdy, pastor of Epworth M. E. church and chairman of Kiwanis club programs this month.

Plan "All Kiwanis" Fete.

Secretary L. C. Mantz announced that an "All Kiwanis Night" celebration, sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Sewickley, will take place at the Montour Heights Country club in the Pittsburgh district on the evening of June 21.

At the close of their meeting the Kiwanians adjourned to the front of the hotel where motion picture men photographed them for the new film, "Who's Who in New Castle", to be presented shortly in a local theater.

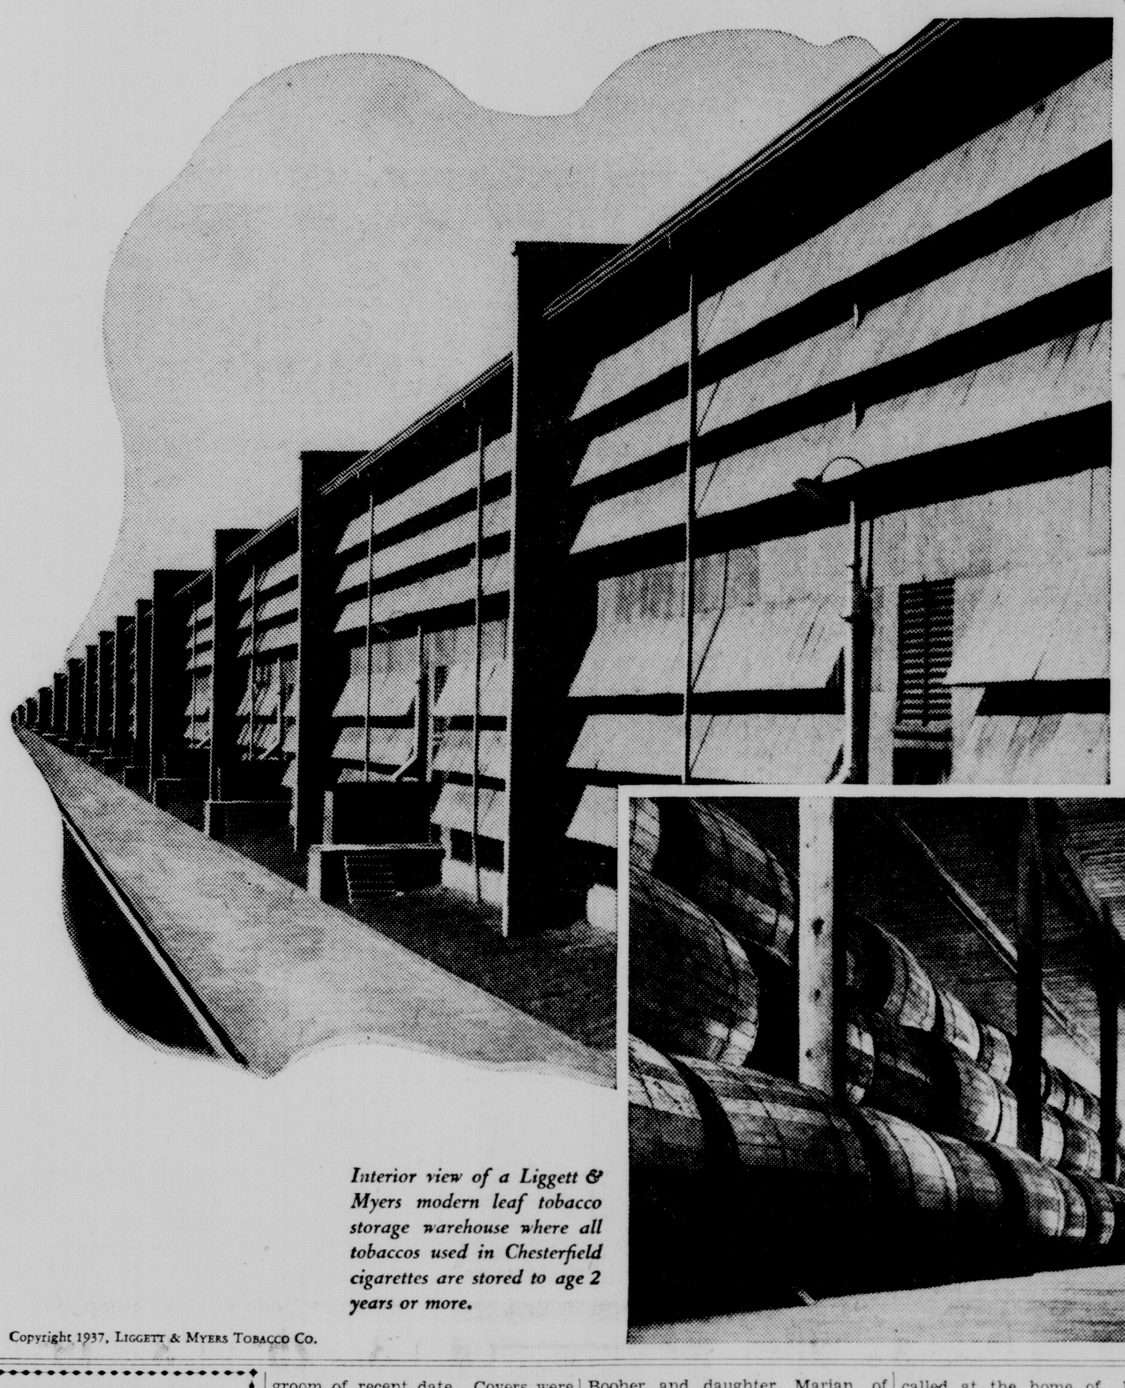

CHILD BRIDES

(International News Service)

PUEBLO, Colo.—The marital affairs of two child brides broke into Pueblo county court records on the same day recently. Geraldine G. Boone, 15, was married to Herbert C. Henderson by a local justice of the peace on the same day that Naomi Stokes Burkhalter, also 15, filed a divorce suit charging cruelty. The latter was married January 23, 1937.

PRESIDENT'S TRAIN IS ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON

Roosevelt Will Arrive Friday

Devotes Attention Enroute To Problems Confronting Administration Plans

TO STAND PAT ON COURT PROPOSALS

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD Presidential Special En Route To Washington, May 13.—Speeding eastward across the central states for Washington, President Roosevelt devoted today to bringing himself up to date on the congressional situation, particularly with reference to his suprme court reorganization proposal.

Traveling with him was son James, one of the White House secretaries, who made a special trip to Fort Worth to join the returning Texas fishing party in order to report.

Farley To Board Train

Boarding the special train at Indianapolis this afternoon will be Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Immediately upon his arrival in Washington Friday, the president is expected to assemble congressional leaders and go over all major political developments during the seventeen days he was in the southwest. Despite reports from the capitol that a majority of the senate judiciary committee is opposed to his bill calling for six additional supreme court justices, it was understood aboard train Mr. Roosevelt intends to stand pat, reject compromise and insist on a vote on the original proposal.

Traveling back to Washington with the president were Elliott Roosevelt, second son, his wife and their baby daughter, Ruth Chandler. RFC Chairman Jesse Jones and Mrs. Jones and Charles Jones, general manager of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, also were aboard the train.

Correct this sentence: "My conscience is clear,' said the man, "for I have never failed to do my best."

Constipated 30 Years

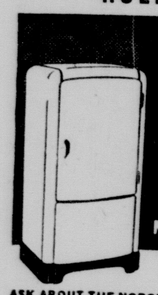

"For thirty years I had stubborn constipation. Sometimes I did not go for four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headaches and pains in the back. Adlerika helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never felt better. I sleep soundly all night and enjoy life." —Mrs. Mabel Schott.

If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adlerika. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adlerika gives complete action, cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and colon bacilli."

Give your bowels a real cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. Eckerd's

Farm Bank Loans Are Being Paid

Figures Show Only Few Loans Defaulted By Farmers In Local District

Ninety-five per cent of all Federal Land Bank of Baltimore loans to Pennsylvania farmers were in good standing, with no interest or installment payments delinquent at the end of the first quarter of 1937 compared to 84 per cent at the same time in 1936, Charles S. Jackson, president of the bank, announced this week. These figures include land bank and land bank commissioner loans.

The condition reflects an optimistic outlook for agriculture and indicates that the general farm situation is considerably improved, in Mr. Jackson's opinion. He said that apparently more interest is being taken in farming and in farm ownership, and the fact that the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics price index figure of all commodities that farmers sell increased from 105 at the end of the first quarter last year to 128 at the same time this year means that farm income has increased considerably.

As of April 1, $630,600 representing 290 loans, were outstanding through the Lawrence County National Farm Loan Association, of which 98 per cent were in good standing, according to Franklin A. Glenn, secretary-treasurer.

Two Injured In Auto Crash

Lose Control Of Car On Highland Heights Hill At One O'Clock This Afternoon

Two persons were injured, this afternoon, neither seriously, when an automobile driven by Herman Johnston, of Hanna street, collided with a truck of the New Model Baking Co., on Highland Heights Hill, after which it went off the road just opposite Miller's pond at the foot of the hill. Ralph Kirkwood, of R. F. D. No. 1, received lacerations of the face and is undergoing treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital. Johnston was treated and discharged.

James Covert, another passenger in the car escaped injury. The bread truck was driven by Alex Wiech, of Long avenue.

Scientists Use Photos To Study Stellar System

Scientists Photo Milky Way To Solve Mystery Of Stars

(International News Service)

MT. WILSON OBSERVATORY, Cal., Feb. 17.—Photographs of the Milky Way, recording the millions of stars that make it up, the bright nebulae that adorn it, and the clouds of cosmic dust that hide parts of it, were being studied by scientists here today in a campaign to reveal the makeup of the stellar system.

The photographs were made with a five-inch astronomical camera of his own design by Dr. Frank E. Ross of Yerkes observatory. The new camera is constructed to show a wide field, taking in more of the heavens in "one shot" than customarily is obtained.

Dr. Ross has specialized in a study of the Network nebula, which is believed to consist of a sort of double cloud of very fine particles, driven outward from some hidden source by radiation.

Seek Radiation Answer

Yet no bright star which could be responsible for the radiation is seen there, so scientists believe it is hidden by the dust.

Studies of this dust are regarded as of utmost importance because this material seriously affects calculations as to the mass and extent of the star system.

And it is in the hope of gaining further knowledge of the dark dust clouds that Dr. Ross has been using his new powerful little camera on the milky way.

Wood Once Served As Loan Recipts

Wooden Treasury Notes Once Used By The Bank Of England

(International News Service)

LONDON — Notched staves of wood, eight feet long, handed by the British treasury as receipts to those who lent it money, were among exhibits shown at the Bank of England Museum.

Money of all countries was lent by Sir Henry Strakosch including "assignats", notes which were printed and poured into circulation during the French Revolution.

"Assignats" were issued with such profusion that they have served ever since to warn against inflatuation.

"Exchequer tallies," equivalent of modern "treasury bill" are also being shown there, in addition to a collection of silver plate, with hall marks dating back to 1694, date of the bank's foundation.

Sunk by Loyalist Planes

Bilbao reports that one of the Spanish Rebels' best warships, the Espana, formerly the Alphonso 3d, was sunk by Loyalist air bombers off Bilbao. The ship, once flagship of the Spanish navy, was one of the rebel craft participating in the blockade of the Basque seaport.

Was Sure Wendel Was Kidnaper Of Lindbergh Baby

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., May 13.—Ellis Parker, Jr., was so sure Paul H. Wendel kidnaped the Lindbergh baby that he ordered him seized in New York on Feb. 14, 1936, Harry Weiss, self-confessed accomplice in the Wendel "snatch", testified at the Parker kidnap trial here today.

"He (Parker, junior) was sure Wendel was the man that kidnaped the Lindbergh baby," said Weiss who was permitted to take the stand for the prosecution despite defense objections. "He wanted me to help arrest him."

Weiss has pleaded guilty to the kidnap conspiracy charges for which young Parker and his father, Ellis, Sr., chief of Burlington county detectives, are now on trial.

Wins Fortune By Accurate Guessing

(International News Service)

NENANA, Alaska, May 13.—Mervin E. ("Buster") Anderson, 32, a bus driver from Fairbanks, today won the world's greatest guessing contest. He guessed within one minute the time the ice broke in the broad Tanana river, and won a pool estimated at between $85,000 and $90,000.

With a sharp crack, followed by a grinding movement, the ice officially broke at 1:04 p. m. yesterday. The time was the second latest on record and most of the guesses were considerably too early.

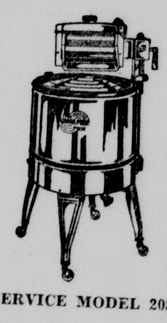

Guesses on breaking of the ice, at $1 each, were received from all parts of the United States, Canada and Alaska.

A news story says New York police found pornographic pictures in a suspect's room, but doesn't tell the name of the magazine.

Crystal Palace May Be Sports Center

Famous Crystal Palace In London, Razed By Fire, May Be Rebuilt

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Crystal Palace, famous suburban landmark, recently burned down, may be rebuilt as a sports center.

Suggesting bowling greens, squash rackets, swimming pools, tennis pitches, Mr. Watling, a trustee of the building, stated there was also room for dance halls, restaurants, movie theaters, and show rooms.

Manager Sir Henry Buckland stated, "The slope which is the present grave of Crystal Palace, may, in time to come, be crowned with another building, like, yet unlike, the old."

Meanwhile, buyers are trying to purchase the steel and iron structure for scrap believing they will be able to re-sell at a very high price.

Texans Lead In Selling Drinks

Are Rated Most Accomplished Of Youths Who Serve Soft-Drink Counters

LEAD STATES IN NEW YORK CALLERS

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 13.—Those bright bantering young men serving drinks in the open-fronted soft drink stands are almost invariably from Texas. Proprietors have found they are the most accomplished of all at the counter. Rarely do they employ the native New Yorker.

O. O. McIntyre

City folk somehow get a kick out of the familiar conversation in the manner of the Texas panhandle. These jobs offer a first toe hold in the ... city for the ambitious but not many remain for more than two or three weeks. Their aim is higher.

Incidentally, in proportion to population, Texans in general are the most frequent visitors to New York from any state. There are two hotels which depend almost entirely for patronage on visitors from the Lone Star. Revue shows are especially patronized by them.

Too, the Texas ladies, mostly wives of rich ranchers and oil magnates, are heavy spenders in the exclusive dressmaking and millinery salons. This is true also of their trade at the luxury establishments, jewelers, perfume parlors and the like.

Don Clarke used to tell of a twittery New York newspaperman on the old World who walked long distances each evening toward his home uptown, thinking the fatigue might cure his insomnia. Some of his fellows would contrive to be sauntering casually down the avenue and pass him with indifferent greeting. Then hurrying around to the El, they'd scoot back up town and pass the sufferer again a little further northward on his route with the same casualness. What success they had in making the victim think he was seeing things is not recorded. A mean trick.

In West 23d street lives J. R. Shaver, who for so long sold his fine drawings of children to New York and English papers. His vogue, once enormous, has passed and he lives in Dickensian dust and shadows with stacks of his favorite originals of the years gone by. This eclipse comes to almost every popular artist sooner or later. The Peter Arnos of today are often the Shavers of tomorrow.

Summer musing: We wonder what a Dakota pioneer would have thought on reading this winter's headline in the Times: "16,000 in City Fight Snow of 1.8 Inches."

Last night I read in Ray Long's school history this query: "Do great epochs make great men or do great men make epochs?" With the ponderous idea as a neucleus, I began to wonder whether our occupations fashion us or whether we come into the world already equipped for our occupations. In a minor key—and not particularly appropriate to the large text—it occurs to me that printers and telegraphers of my acquaintance in the news shops were quiet fellows with a placid regard for the turmoil of the news rooms and perhaps inward smiles at their knowledge of events, past and present, that might have embarrassed some of the noisier boys on the editorial side. I have found without exception that proof readers have a way of enjoying life with detached serenity. They have quietly saved many editors and sub-editors from ghastly mistakes.

Scene: On the avenue I saw General John Pershing swinging along. He was hailed by a friend with a familiar "Why hello John!" Pershing answered the greeting warmly, gave a quick glance around in the manner of notables and then drew his friend around the corner into a doorway for a heart to heart talk. They were going great guns when I sauntered on. Few oldsters have preserved their years and carriage so successfully as Gen. Pershing.

Thingumbobs: Ashton Stevens, Chicago critic, has turned his face to yesterday to write what he calls "When Cabs Wore Horses" . . . Dean Cornwell is the most widely traveled of the magazine illustrators . . . Broadway now has more radio press agents than ever had theatrical press agents . . . Mary Roberts Rinehart will be among the first American writers to interview the new English queen.

Old burlesque scene: Grogan, the comedian with the red flannel undershirt sleeves showing, is in a bar. His friend, the bar keep, has been called out and a couple of swells come in and ask for two Pousse Cafes. Grogan puts everything in them but the bar cat. As the orchestra plays he slides up and down the bar reaching for everything in sight and working himself up to a furious lather. As a crowning move he sops up all the sloshings on the bar with the towel, wrings this out in the drink.., tears two handsful of straw from a dirty broom, sticks them in and serves. By this time they were picking most of us up out of the aisles.

Doctor Warns Against Excess Weight At 50

Persons Over-Weight At Age Of 50 Have Slim Chance Of Life Expectancy

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 13.—Thirty pounds over-weight at the age of 50 reduces the chances of reaching life expectancy by 50 per cent, according to Dr. Benjamin Eliasoph, associate physician at Mount Sinai hospital.

Thirty pounds underweight has no effect on health, he declared in an address before the third annual Institute of the New York Counties Registered Nurses Association.

"Obese people over 50 are actually suffering from a disease," Dr. Eliasoph said. "The most important thing for these people is a proper diet under the direction of a physician. But they should keep away from charlatans, who present all kinds of fad diets."

"Food cranks," he warned, "are dangerous."

The ideal state at the age of 50 is to be underweight, according to Dr. Eliasoph.

"You will live longer this way," he concluded.

When you are ironing, if you will alternate heavy pieces with lightweight articles, it will tend to keep the heat of the iron even.

BURTON TUCKER AND MRS. SUSAN TUCKER, INSET

Money woes in the marital life of Mrs. Susan Tucker, 59, and her erstwhile Cinderella bridegroom, Burton Tucker, 32, whose "May-December" marriage 14 years ago received nation-wide publicity, were aired in New York court by Mrs. Tucker, appearing against her husband on a charge of abandonment. She alleged he abandoned her and her three children last year and that she was forced to pawn her jewelry.

Sentimental Epitaphs Mark Tombstones In Cemetery For Dogs

By JOSEPH M. THOMPSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RADNOR, Pa., May 13.—
"Our Darling Pet
"We shall never forget
"She was sweeter than all
"The candy she et."

The pet referred to in the above lines was a dog named "Smookie" whose body lies buried in a cemetery of this Philadelphia suburb. Three thousand other dogs have graves in the same grounds and the epitaphs on their tombstones are as tenderly sentimental as that on "Smookie's" granite marker.

The sanctuary which includes a home for small animals was found by Mrs. George Hare McClellan and is called "Francisvale" in memory of a stray dog the kind hearted lady took into her home one bitterly cold morning 37 years ago. Mrs. McClellan grew so attached to "Francis" that up until her death five years ago she sent countless stray dogs to the home to be cared for until they died a natural death.

The dogs are kept in kennels that are heated in cold weather. In summer they have the freedom of a long run way. Two men who have spent their lives with dogs tend to them and take care of the cemetery. In the center of the burial ground is a large granite tombstone in memory of "Francis—the Devoted Friend and Beloved Pet of Harriet Hare and George McClellan, Found December 31, 1897—Died May 25, 1910."

Most owners of the dogs buried in Francisvale are frequent visitors to their graves. Often they bring flowers and many have planted shrubbery around the lots. Some have pictures of their pets under glass set in the tombstones.

A lot two by three feet costs $8, and one five feet square costs $16. The dogs are given regular funerals and, according to the attendants, owners of the pets are deeply affected as their pets are lowered into graves. Many buy steel or concrete coffins for them.

Air Hostess Flies Million Miles

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—She's not a pilot, but she's flown a million miles.

Miss Clara Johnson, attractive young stewardess who flies regularly between Seattle and Oakland on a United Aid Lines run, has made 1,379 trips. Heber C. Miller, veteran coast pilot, congratulated her and presented her with a certificate as she alighted from a plane at Boeing field after completing her millionth mile.

"Ive enjoyed every mile, and I'm looking forward to several million more," Miss Johnson smiled. And then she added, "Just how many times would that be around the world?"

The veteran stewardess, who has flown for six years, is one of five United Air Lines stewardessess in America to pass the million-mile mark. She is a graduate registered nurse.

HARRISBURG—The division of fruit and vegetable inspection, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, reports all records broken for shipments of certified seed potatoes to growers in this state this year. Shipments from Maine alone totaled 132 carloads in three weeks.

It isn't necessary to ask a Congressmans opinion of an anti-lynching bill. Just count the colored vote in his district.

Says College Days Not Happiest Days

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 13.—"The happiest days of life are not college days," President James H. Grier of Monmouth college told Westminster college students Tuesday at honors convocation. "The future after college days is the royal road to romance."

Dr. Grier, who was honored by Westminster with an LL. D., reminisced on college life, when he was a, 1898-1902, commenting on the importance of Latin and Greek in the curriculum; the turning off of the town's electricity at 11 o'clock at night, and the absence of paved roads for hundreds of miles in any direction.

"The most valuable things of life are those things which are forgotten," remarked the Monmouth college president, with reference to the fact that much of what is learned in mathematics, chemistry and language is soon forgotten after examinations are over.

Officiating at the honors convocation were Dr. John Orr, Bible and philosophy department head, who pronounced benediction; President R. F. Galbreath, who stated the purpose of the honors convocation; Dean A. C. Burr, who presented students for awards, and Dr. McElwee Ross, president of the Westminster board of trustees, who represented the board in awarding the degree.

Leonard Mills Is On Naval Leave

Local Youth Is Initiated Into Equator Fraternity Recently At Sea

Leonard C. Mills, formerly of this city, is now visiting relatives here, while on a leave of absence from the United States Navy. Mills is from the U. S. S. Phelps, one of Uncle Sam's newest destroyers, now at the Boston Navy Yard, undergoing its final check-up prior to its departure for the west coast, where it will join the United States fleet stationed at Los Angeles.

Mills was sent to the Phelps when it was commissioned in February, 1936, and since that time has visited all the gulf ports and went to South America with the president as an escort ship.

On crossing the equator he was duly initiated into the Royal and Ancient Order of Shellbacks. Mills states that a great deal of fun, both for the crew and himself, was derived from the initiation exercises. Mills is now on 25 days leave and upon expiration of this time he will report again to the Phelps for duty. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Mills, reside on Sampson street.

During the tenth century, the French court spoke German.

Students Frown On Smoking By Their Mothers

High School Students Opposed To Drinking And Smoking On Part Of Parents

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Few high school students like to see their mothers smoke.

This was one of the revelations of a recent survey conducted by the Parent-Teachers' association of the Colorado Springs high school.

Questionnaires were distributed to approximately 1,250 sophomore, junior and senior high school students containing a number of questions pertaining to their impressions of the older generation. Boys and girls were not required to sign their answers.

A total of 1,125 voted "no" to the question "Do you approve of your mother smoking?" Only 159 voted "yes".

Answers revealed also that there is much misunderstanding between parents and children. A total of 366 students declared they had to go to friends outside their family for personal advice. An additional 97 said they were completely without anyone to whom they could take their troubles.

Drinking by parents was found to be in even more disfavor than smoking. Only 120 were unopposed to it, while 1,057 criticized it.

Farmers Shown As Staging Comeback

According To Massachusetts College Survey American Farmers Stage Comeback

(International News Service)

AMHERST, Mass.—The American farmer is staging a strong comeback according to reports released by the extension service of Massachusetts State College.

Farmers received 44 cents of the consumer's food dollar in 1936 compared to 42 cents in 1935 and 33 cents in 1932. These figures are based on 58 food items, representing about 74 per cent of all foods purchased.

The largest average portion of the consumers' dollar received by the farmers was 60 cents in 1917, while the 33 cents average received in 1933 was the smallest portion in the 24 years of government record.

Veteran Stowaway Without A Country

Man Held At Ellis Island Can Get No Country In World To Recognize Him

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Raiundo Estrada, veteran stowaway, was "a man without a country" today.

Immigration authorities are holding him on Ellis Island because to all indication there is no country on earth that will admit him as a native.

At different times in the past when he has been seized as a stowaway, he has claimed Mexico, Ecuador, Chile and Puerto Rico as his birthplace.

Chile once recognized him by permitting him to return to their shores, but they don't want him now as the result of his insistence that he is an American citizen, born in Puerto Rico.

Estrada was detained last October and in February the United States District Court decreed that his evidence did not reveal him to be an American citizen.

He can't enter the United States; he cannot be deported to Chile; Puerto Rico will not give him a passport; the law leaves him at Ellis Island.

Theater Censors Allotted Seats In Rear Balcony

Woman Theater Proprietor In Seattle Provides Worst Seats For Censors

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—Seattle's theater censors can censor productions appearing at the Moore theatre, where many of the "artistic" events of the city appear, but they will do it from the cheapest seats available.

For the performance of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, Mrs. Cecelia Schulz, manager of the theater, allotted members of the board seats in the back row of the top balcony.

"The law says a theater operator is obliged to set members of the censor board in free and give them proper seats," said Mrs. Schulz. "Well, I think seats in the gallery are just as proper as those in the bald-headed row."

She added: "They don't come to the theater because they think the symphony orchestra is going to play in its underwear, or because they think one of my fine artists will do a little burlesque. They come because they want to see the show."

Use Of Planes In Forest Fires To Be Increased

Airplanes Are Able To Sight Forest Fires And Report Location Quickly

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—Use of airplanes in fighting forest fires in Oregon, during the coming fire season will be greatly increased as a result of successful experiments in that field last year, it was said here after a forest supervisor's meeting.

Planes in the future will be used to transport fire-fighting crews and supplies, as well as to drop supplies from the air to ground crews, according to J. F. Campbell, regional fire control head.

The most successful system used during the last fire season, he said, was the dropping of supplies by crude parachutes made out of burlap. Loosely-wrapped packages weighing up to fifty pounds were found most easily handled. Experiments last year included an attempt to drop eggs by means of a parachute, and out an an entire crate only two eggs were broken by the fall.

A policeman had found Boyle hacking at—of all things—a fire hydrant. Sentence was suspended.

SOIL SAVING

East Brook A. A. Banquet Success, Honor Champions

Over 150 Attend Annual Recognition Dinner, C. W. Herman Hess Speaker

Harold Mayberry Toastmaster, Miss Marjorie Powell And Girls Team Honored

East Brook A. A. scored another distinct hit last night, the annual recognition banquet for the young girl and boy athletes of East Brook high school was attended by 150 persons and ranks with the finest bankuets of its kind ever staged in the community. C. W. Herman Hess was the principal speaker of the evening.

There were no dull moments from the time that the large group sat down to eat a plate of delicious braised steak and potatoes and all the trimmings, until the floor was cleared for the dance.

Mayberry Toastmaster

The banquet end of the evening over, Harold "Huck" Mayberry, president of the East Brook A. A., assumed the role of toastmaster of the occasion and presented a very pleasing program. The first man called upon was W. R. Walton, president of the East Brook School board. He responded with a fine talk congratulating the young ladies of the school for their championship this year.

Next Mr. Mayberry called upon Charles "Bugs" Walther of the New Castle News for a few remarks. He also offered his congratulations to the young ladies and to Coach Miss Marjorie Powell.

C. W. Herman Hess Speaks

C. W. Herman Hess of New Castle, one of the city's most fluent after-dinner speakers, was called upon for the principal address and responded with his customary fine oration, saying in part that the young athletes should have faith in cause and self. Cooperation was stressed as important. He admonished the athletes to play hard and fair at all times. Play to win, don't give up, was another thought left by Mr. Hess. Have courage and a fighting heart, and be loyal. Quitters never won a game, because they lacked the heart, was his last advice to the group.

Next Principal Ralph E. Watson of East Brook high school, was called upon and delivered a fine oration in which he stressed the accomplishments of the two honored coaches and teams, and then called upon Coach Dee Emrick to present the letters to the boys. Mr. Emrick made a fine speech prior to the presentations.

Miss Powell Speaks

Miss Marjorie Powell, the coach of the girls' team, was the final speaker called upon. She gave a most clever talk and at the same time had nothing but praise for the group of young ladies who brought a championship to East Brook for the first time in the history of the school. She reviewed very briefly the season's record, and told of how she had been preparing the girls for the past three years for the championship. She praised each girl individually in making her presentation of letters.

The speech by Miss Powell over, the banquet came to an end, and the few remaining hours 'till 11 o'clock were spent in dancing. It was as said previously another big success for the East Brook A. A. and a credit to the women who put in untiring hours of hard work to make the banquet the success that it was.

"Billy" Bilger acted in the role of song-leader preceding the serving of the meal, and also at the end of the dinner. He handled the job very nicely in his first venture of that kind.

Letter Winners

The following young ladies were given letters by Coach Miss Marjorie Powell: Miss Jane Walton, Miss Victoria Scotia, both of these girls were captains of the team the past year; Miss Edith Nene, Miss Cora Mae Newman, Rheba McCreary, Dorothy Young, Pauline Scotia, Edith Kelly, Sophia Wallas, and Miss Lois Walton, manager of the team. Of this fine team of champions, Miss Walton, Miss Victoria Scotia, Edith Nene and Cora Mae Newman will be graduated and lost to the team for next year.

The following boys were given letters by Coach Dee Emrick: George Hall, James Finnegan, Merritt Downing, Alfred Gardner, Milton Jameson, Donald Reed, Dave Kimmel and Manager Theron Carr.

The banquet was prepared by the following ladies of the East Brook A. A.: General Chairman Mrs. Harold Mayberry, Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Winder, Mrs. Omar Fink, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Waddington and Mrs. Allen. The following young ladies served the dinner: Miss Dorothy Young, Miss Patton, Mrs. Walter Hart, Miss Cain, Mrs. Walton, Miss Wilson, Miss Morrow and Miss Maxwell.

Donald Budge Is Cup Hope

Whether Or Not U. S. Wins Davis Cup Depends Quite A Bit On Donnie Budge

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., May 13.—One long, lean, young Californian—Donald Budge—will have a large say in where the Davis Cup shall land this year.

That is the consensus of tennis players, coaches and managers today. They figure whichever of the three chief contenders—Australia, Germany or the United States—reaches the finals at Wimbledon is a sure bet to lift the cup from England.

Depends On Budge

The Australian-American battles here May 29, 30 and 31 are called a toss-up but it is generally admitted that if Budge is at his peak, he should win both his singles matches and, paired with Gene Mako, skim through the doubles.

The winner of this match is conceded a slight edge over Germany.

Therefore, they say, as Budge goes, so goes the cup.

However, the Australians working out here today concede nothing. They grant they face a stiff battle but fail to see where they are worse than an even money bet, Budge or no Budge.

Budge, of course, will be our No. 1 man in the singles but it still is a question whether little Bryan Grant or Frank Parker will get the call for the No. 2 spot. However, it is generally agreed that if Grant can break out of his recent slump he will get the nod.

Butler Wins Dual Track Meet, 89-33

New Castle High Grabs Only Two Firsts In Exciting Meet Wednesday

EVENT HELD AT TAGGART STADIUM

Capturing 12 out of 14 first place honors, Butler high school's "Gazelle line" track team kept its record unblemished for the season Wednesday afternoon at Taggart stadium, winning over New Castle high, 89-33, in an exciting dual meet. Despite a heavy rain several minutes before the start of the cinder path affair, the schoolboys ignored the handicap and staged one of the most interesting meets in the history of the local field.

The Butler team, coached by J. E. Mixer, was everything it was cracked up to be—a "crackerjack". In Penar, John Vensel and Heitzer, the Soap Miners have a trio of cinder lads who would look pretty on most any track team. The visitors topped off the afternoon by getting a bad start in the mile relay and then winning by a good 15 or 20 yards.

"Blackie" Nocera, participating in but one event, won first place in the high jumping, leaping 5 feet 4 inches. Mumeyak, New Castle's speed merchant, gave the fans a real treat in the 100-yard scamper, being clocked at 9 4-5 seconds. His run was easily one of the highlights of the meet. John Vensel, crack miler for Butler, put on a real Cunningham finish to come ahead of Jolley, New Castle entry, in another thrilling race.

Mumeyak managed to edge in second in the 120 low hurdles. James copped second place in the javelin throw for the red and black clad team while Roussos broad jumped his way into second place for the Tin City representatives. Deep pulled through with a surprise, finishing second in the shot put contest.

The officials, headed by Ralph H. Gardner, peppy faculty manager, handled the meet in a professional manner.

NEW YORK, May 13.—This is the day when everything is expected to become definitely confusing regarding the respective merits of Carl Hubbell and Rube Marquard, a pair of pitchers then and now.

A few weeks ago Hubbell won his 19th straight game to be greeted by wide acclaim as an equaller of old records. A few days ago he won his 20th game to be cheered all over again but still just an equaller. Instead of a record-breaker, Hubbell was right back where he started. It seems somebody suddenly discovered that the archives were all wrong after all these years and that Marquard actually won 20 back in 1912 after all. Nobody thought he had won more than 19 until Hubbell showed up.

Pirates Win Again

Anyhow, Hubbell is expected to start today against the Pittsburgh Pirates and perhaps we'll have a record we can put into the book without fear of a proof reader among the skeletons in the family closet.

The Pirates beat the Giants yesterday by 6 to 5, to remain out in front in the National League race and to keep the Giants down in third place just ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers who now finally are in the first division.

Dodgers Top Reds

Behind the extremely expert pitching of Max Butcher, the Dodgers beat the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 1, this victory leaving the Dodgers exactly a half game behind the Giants.

The St. Louis Cardinals left no doubt whatever as to who belonged in second place, blasting the Philadelphia Phillies for 20 hits and a 15 to 3 victory. The Cards hit three home runs, two triples and six doubles during the festivities.

The Chicago Cubs beat the Boston Bees, 6 to 2.

American League activity was confined entirely to the second division as only one game was played, with the Chicago White Sox beating the Washington Senators, 13 to 5.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

Here is one . . . it just came to the old head . . . brain storm if you want to call it that . . . didn't think today would bring forth such an appetizer . . . use to use this receipt in the good old summer time . . . the main ingredient is Water Cress . . . (this sounds like a woman's column) . . . some of the best food is prepared by men . . . in fact one meal eaten by yours truly every day is cooked by a man . . . getting on . . . Water Cress can be gathered at the store or if you like the fun of gathering it yourself, there are plenty of places . . . cut out the gab and get on with the story . . . well here it is . . . take one bunch of water cress . . . one forth cup of unsalted butter . . . Clean the water cress and dry very thoroughly . . .take a good sharp knife and chop the water cress fine, very fine . . . Now cream the butter and add the water cress . . bled well . . . this makes very fine sandwich filling . . . may we suggest you use Rye or Pumpernickel bread . . . I can hear you saying now . . . what a brain storm . . . so say we all . . . try it some time . . . the filling I mean not the brain storm.

Now that the coronation is over I suppose we can turn our entire attention to the greatest lovers in the world . . . I wouldn't care to be in their shoes . . . romance here in the good old U. S. A. is good enough for this column . . . even if we have to go through 30 days of solitary confinement . . . it takes all kinds.

POLICE FIND PUPPY TANGLED UP IN JAR

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 18.—Strange noises coming from the basement of her home led Mrs. James Ingebretsen of Salt Lake City to believe burglars were at work.

She notified police.

Patrolmen E. J. Barnes and James E. Tucker responded to the call. They advanced into the basement with flashlights and guns in hand.

There they found a three-months-old puppy, its head caught in an empty fruit jar.

Patrolman Barnes carefully broke the jar with a small iron bar and freed the pup.

Stock Market Is Unsettled

Sudden Wave Of Selling Sends Stocks Downward Today After Opening

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 13.—The stock market today broke to new lows for the year in a selling wave which sent the high-speed ticker four minutes behind. Losses ran to four points in pivotal issues.

Renewed labor unsettlement, with strikes in General Motors plants and in Jones & Laughlin Steel, combined with further liquidation of utility shares touched off the sudden wave of selling.

Prices melted rapidly, steels, rubbers, motors, utilities and several "thin" specialties leading the way downward. A long list of issues, including most in the power and light section, slumped to new lows for the year.

U. S. Steel tumbled four points to 95⅛ before recovering slightly as the market met support around noon. Youngstown Sheet & Tube dropped more than three, while Bethlehem and Republic each lost more than two.

A sudden drive on Chrysler, (ex-dividend $2 a share) carried the stock down more than three points. General Motors slid half as much.

Utilities, including Consolidated Edison, Electric Power & Light and American Water Works, were at new lows with losses of as much as two points.

Westinghouse tumbled more than three, Deere about five, Johns-Manville four, Case four, Pullman two, U. S. Rubber the same, Loew's 2½ and Western Union three to a new low. Paramount and Warner Brothers, International Telephone, Woolworth, American Tobacco "B" and American Radiator also reached new bottoms for the year.

Bonds sold off with other securities, with governments under pressure. Grains and cotton were easier in reactionary commodity markets.

Streets At Schools Are To Be Oiled

Board Authorizes Oiling To Keep Dust Down On Unpaved Streets

Authorization of the purchase of oil for street purposes up to $200 was given to Business Manager John B. Bechtol of the New Castle schools on Wednesday night at the board meeting.

In the past few years the school system has aided in oiling dirt streets that run by school property. This year the oil is higher in price. About 48 barrels will be needed.

Compensation for school enumerators was set at five cents per name, the usual fee. The board members drew for the various wards of the city and each board member will name one enumerator, the Fourth ward being divided into two pieces. The enumerators will work in the summer.

Trapped by Curiosity

Herbie Scheper, aged two and a half, tried to find out the depth of a drain pipe near his home in Long Island by putting his foot in it. The police emergency squad was called to extricate the lad. They had to tear up a whole section of the drain in the process of freeing him. Here Herbie, bored with the whole thing, is shown being held by his mother as the police work with pick and shovel. (Central Press)

Civic Music Drive Showing Results

Many New Members Coming In To Add To Renewals Of Last Year's Number

Many new members to the Civic Music Association were shown to have been signed Wednesday afternoon and evening when a check up of the progress of the present membership campaign was made.

"The encouraging feature of the campaign is the number of new members" said Samuel Harrington NBC representative who is here conducting the campaign for the local group. "We believe most of the old members will sign up before the end of the week and by Saturday night we should show a total near 1000."

Pittsburgh Youths' Camp Inquiries Are Filed, 'Y' Reports

Pittsburgh district youths are making inquiry about Camp Fred L. Rentz vacations, but General Secretary R. L. Meermans of the Y. M. C. A. filed the requests so that New Castle boys can have preference in registrations.

"We've a number of requests for registrations from Pittsburgh boys," Mr. Meermans said. "They want to come here, but we're filing the requests until later. We're giving New Castle boys first opportunity in the registration."

Today 52 boys had signed up for camp for the coming summer. The 52 had reserved a total of 73 boyweeks a record number for this early in the season.

Business Matters In School Board

Number Of Minor Transactions At Meeting Of Board Last Night

Authority was given to the business manager of the school district at the board meeting of Wednesday night to purchasee a new dishwasher for the senior high cafeteria at a price of $445 from the Demmler & Schenk company.

Two drinking fountains, ice cooled, were ordered purchased from the Lawrence Ice & Storage company for use in the George Washington junior high school at a price of $147 each.

Secretary John B. Bechtol reported that the diplomas for the June graduating class had been ordered under the terms of a two-year contract entered into 18 months ago.

Notice was received from the Fombelle Coal company that the recent increases in the wages of coal miners would increase the price to the board 16 cents per ton as per the contract entered into last August.

The Pennsylvania Forensic league notified the board that it was pleased with the invitation to come to New Castle for next year's musical and literary competitions and that an investigation of facilities in various western Pennsylvania cities was being made. The site for the 1938 contests will be announced soon, the letter said.

An opinion was received from Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti to the effect that any dismissals of teachers prior to the passage of the tenure act were illegal. The opinion means nothing to New Castle as the local schools have been conducted upon a system that was the equivalent of tenure for many years.

New Typewriters Bought For Schools

Fourteen new typewriters were purchased by the New Castle school board Wednesday night, at the meeting of the board. Bids for all of the standard makes of machines were the same, $60 for new machines with $170 allowance for the old machines. One company had an allowance of $172.50 bid but all of them were outbid by two typewriting repair companies, one of which bid $202.50 for the old machines and one $212.50.

The company bids for the new machines, $60 each, were accepted and the awards divided as follows: four Royals, four Smiths, three Remingtons and three Underwoods. The sale of the old machines went to the Brewster-Roberts company of Youngstown, O., at their bid of $212.50.

McKibben Renamed School Treasurer

C. C. McKibben, city treasurer and tax collector, was elected school treasurer and treasurer of the athletic council at the meeting of the school board Wednesday night.

His compensation as school treasurer was set at $250 per year and as athletic council treasurer at $25 per year. The school board pays for his bond as treasurer, the amount of the bond being $75,000, and his premium about $600.

A. C. Hyde asked why it was necessary to pay an additional sum for a school treasurer under the new setup and it was explained that the school treasurership was not a part of the tax system, whereby the city and schools divide the cost of maintaining the office.

Just to make everyone conscious of the great occasion, Pittsburgh's brawny two-fisted mounted police will—for one day only—wear white helmets, the kind big game hunters wear on safaris.

Superintendent Franklin T. McQuade was all for it, the policemen didn't have much to say, and the horses weren't asked.

Chain Store Tax Bill In Conference

Differences In Measure In Senate And House Will Be Considered

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 13.—Hurdling both house and senate barriers, the Earle administration's proposed $3,500,000 chain store tax and "Little Wagner Act" landed in conference committees today.

There, differences that have arisen between the two chambers are expected to be ironed out with the certainty that the two measures will be written on the commonwealth's statute books next week.

Only one Democrat, Sen. Charles W. Sones, Lycoming, jumped the traces as the senate responded to Gov. George H. Earle's demands and pushed through the Stank-Patterson measure imposing a graduated levy of from $1 to $500 on chain stores and theatres, the proceeds of which are earmarked for use of fourth class school districts.

The house refused to accept a senate amendment including the specific mention of theatres as being subject to the levy and it is expected that this provision will be ripped out of the bill, then accepted by both chambers.
